Rosenbergs Sentenced To Die For Spying

Allies Drive As Much As Eight Miles Into N. Korea

Communists Fight Back From Hills

Tokyo, Friday (AP)— Allied troops, driving as much as eight miles into North Korea, today battled fiercely with Communist forces along most of a 40-mile front.

The Communists fought back from the hills and ridges defending the North Korean redoubt from which they are expected to launch their great spring offensive.

Across the line on the front stretching from mountainous central Korea to the river valleys north of Seoul were U. S., British, Greek, South Korean and Thailand troops.

Elements of four allied divisions were pressing the attack, designed to keep the enemy off balance. The advance was slow.

The Reds far behind the fighting lines sent 30 of their swift jets into aerial combat in northwest Korea and were repulsed by only 12 U. S. Sabre jets. At least five enemy jets were damaged.

Allied pilots on the prow for night convoys heading toward the front said enemy traffic fell off sharply Thursday night.

The average for a week had been about 1,700 enemy vehicles a night. But Thursday night it was little more than 1,000. Pilots estimated they wrecked 174 enemy vehicles Thursday, day and night.

AP Correspondent Leif Erickson at U. S. Eighth Army headquarters said the Allied advance beyond the 38th parallel was slow but steady.

He predicted the whole battle-front would be shifted into North Korea shortly. He said the Eighth Army reported 1,140 Reds killed or wounded and 39 captured Thursday.

One American armored column stabbed nearly eight miles north of parallel 38 along the main highway toward the Red assembly point of Kumhwa in the west-central sector. Resistance was light to heavy.

This task force reached Chail, about 15 air miles southwest of Kumhwa. It was the most daring penetration since United Nations forces rebounded in January from a general withdrawal.

The Chinese and Korean Reds have bunched an estimated 500,000 on the western and central fronts for a new major drive expected to start during the rainy season this month.

There was an unconfirmed report—revival of a month-old field intelligence account—that some 3,000 Russian-supplied planes were in readiness at Manchurian air-strips to back up such an offensive.

Dr. Rutledge Kills Himself

Houston, Tex., (AP)— Dr. Robert C. Rutledge Jr., whose death yesterday rather than face a 70-year-prison term for murdering the seducer of his beautiful wife.

But before he died, he wrote her a love letter, telephoned once to hear her voice one last time, and then drove to their favorite spot in the countryside.

There, he rigged up a hose from his car's exhaust pipe, ran it into the car window, started the motor, and carbon monoxide killed him.

Only Wednesday, the 70-year sentence of the 30-year-old doctor had been confirmed by the Iowa Supreme court.

He had stabbed to death Byron Hattman, who had seduced his wife. The trial at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was one of the most torrid and sensational in the history of American law.

$750,000 Swindle Charged To N. Y. Insurance Broker

New York (AP)—A 49-year-old insurance man, who said he couldn't live on his $15,000-a-year income, was charged yesterday with swindling more than $750,000 from banking institutions and his own customers.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan identified the man as Max Gurevitch and said he admitted the swindles stretching over an eight-year period.

Gurevitch has a wife and two children.

The district attorney said the Bankers Trust Co. was cheated of $300,000, the Royal Industrial Bank of $200,000 and others of lesser amounts.

OPS Approves Milk Price Increases in Pennsylvania

Washington, (AP)—Meat, milk and clothing—important items for every person's pocketbook—had the attention of price officials yesterday.

Here's the way each figured in the news:

Meat—The National Association of Retail Meat Dealers moved to open a court battle against present controls. In a formal protest to the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS), the association said the controls are discriminatory and prevent dealers from selling meat at a reasonable profit.

Army Vets Coming Home From Korea

Washington, (AP)— Battle-weary veterans from Korea will start flowing home this month, replaced at the front by fresh troops from the United States.

Announcing a new rotation plan, Secretary of the Army Pace said yesterday the exchange will eventually average about 20,000 men a month. The Army estimated this point would be reached in early summer.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur will decide the policy for selecting the men to be relieved, Pace said, and those who have been in Korea longest probably will be the first to leave. Some ground troops have been there since fighting began last June.

Pace emphasized that the rate of rotation will depend on the flow of replacements and the necessity of maintaining combat effectiveness of all units facing the Chinese Reds and North Koreans.

The plan calls for the direct return to the United States of as many men as possible, particularly in its early phases. Later some may be shifted to garrison duty in the Far East Command temporarily on their way home.

MacArthur Wants Nationalists Used

Washington (AP)— Gen. Douglas MacArthur kicked over the administration traces again yesterday by applauding a Republican leader's demand for the use of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist troops to open a second front against the Communists in Asia.

He declared the demand made by Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, Republican leader of the House, is logical and in accord with the American tradition of "meeting force with maximum counter force."

Truman Asks $6.4 Billions For Military

Washington (AP)— Another $6.421,681,000 for the armed forces was asked by President Truman yesterday.

The $6.4 billion would be in addition to $11,500,000,000 which the armed forces are already authorized to spend in the present fiscal year.

The request to Congress for additional spending power is intended to cover fiscal deficiencies resulting from the expansion of the armed forces to 3,462,000 men by June 30.

The new money request included $2,850,869,000 for the Army, $1,645,812,000 for the Navy and $1,925,000,000 for the Air Force.

The funds asked by Mr. Truman were about $3,500,000,000 less than the President had estimated in his budget message last January.

Chidsey Seeks Election To High Court

Harrisburg (AP)— Justice T. McKen Chidsey of the State Supreme court came out yesterday as a Republican candidate for a full 21-year term on the high bench.

The 67-year-old Easton jurist is filling a vacancy on the bench created by the death last year of Justice William B. Linn, Philadelphia.

Former Gov. James H. Duff appointed Chidsey, then his attorney general, at the same time he named Justice Grover C. Ladner, Philadelphia Democrat, to succeed the late Chief Justice George W. Maxey, Scranton.

Pennsylvania voters will choose two high court jurists at the July 24 primary. Ladner is also expected to seek a full 21-year term at the $23,000-a-year post.

Under the Constitution, the Republican and Democrat winning the party's nomination in the primary is automatically elected. A constitutional provision requires the election of a member from each of the two major parties in a year when voters ballot on two Supreme court posts.

U. S. Papers To Honor La Prensa

By The Associated Press
Hundreds of flags will be flown at half staff in the United States today to mark the demise of La Prensa, the great Argentine newspaper closed by the Peron government.

Following the lead of Washington's National Press club, whose governors charged that La Prensa had been throttled, newspapers and radio stations across the country are observing the day as one of mourning.

The club's governors have declared that La Prensa's fate is a blow to freedom of the press everywhere.

GOP Claims Enough Votes For Tax Bill

Harrisburg (AP)—The House Republican leadership was reported yesterday to be gaining additional strength for another try next week at passing the controversial income tax bill.

A top House Republican, who declined identity by name, said the GOP leadership is patching up differences with the five-man Schuylkill county delegation which proved the balance of power in defeat of the tax bill Wednesday.

It went down to a crushing 108-98 defeat after 22 Republicans joined with a solid bloc of 86 Democrats in opposing the measure.

The bill would impose a one-half of one per cent flat income tax in Pennsylvania. It was recommended by Gov. John S. Fine to produce $119,000,000 in new revenue the next two years.

The loss of the 22 Republican votes gave the 120-member majority party only 98 votes, seven less than constitutionally required to pass a bill. Actually, however, the Republicans lacked only four votes.

Three Republicans switched from the affirmative to the negative side after they saw the bill was defeated. This placed them on the prevailing side and in position to move for reconsideration of the defeated measure any time before next Thursday.

Since 101 Republicans originally voted in favor of the income tax bill, return of the five-man Schuylkill county delegation to the Republican fold would assure the GOP leadership of 106 votes, one more than needed.

The Republican source said the administration probably will make another attempt next Tuesday or Wednesday to revive and pass the income tax bill.

The House adjourned for the weekend yesterday after passing a bill which would impose a special $1.10 license for antlerless deer seasons in Pennsylvania. It also would give the State Game commission power to limit the number of antlerless deer licenses issued. The bill went to the Senate for action. That body adjourned Wednesday until Monday.

Defense Housing Bill Nears Vote

Washington, (AP)— A $1,500,000,000 defense housing bill moved smoothly through Senate debate yesterday with passage apparently assured when a vote comes Monday.

The main feature of the bill is expansion of the government system of mortgage insurance upon housing projects. The administration asked for $3,000,000,000 in new insurance authority, but Maybank's Banking committee cut the figure in half and added what Maybank called "many safeguards to all parts of the program."

Vinson predicted to newsmen that the House will approve an amendment to be offered by Rep. Kilday (D-Tex.) which would practically junk the administration's plan for a nationwide deferment test for college students.

The amendment, which stipulate that no deferment be granted solely on the basis of a student's showing in such an examination. Vinson explained that it would continue student deferment practically as it is under existing law. Students would be deferred to the end of their academic year and local draft boards would decide after that.

Assistant to the Sergeant at Arms of the U. S. Senate, Marie Geneau has applied in Washington for the post of Ambassador to Haiti. Learning on a vacation trip that William E. DeCourcy, ambassador to Haiti, planned to retire after 30 years service, Miss Geneau made a two-month study of the country, and now she believes that she can qualify as a diplomat.

C. Of C. Commends Stand Taken By Shotwell, Crowe In Opposing Income Levy

The executive committee of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, meeting in special session yesterday afternoon, adopted resolutions commending both Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe and Rep. John S. Shotwell for their stand against Gov. John S. Fine's one-half of one per cent individual income tax.

William V. Nixon, executive secretary, was authorized to immediately forward letters to both Senator Crowe and Rep. Shotwell advising of the executive committee's action which represents 500 members of the Chamber of Commerce.

Copies of the resolution will be forwarded to both men as soon as they are composed.

Letters mailed yesterday to the two legislators, signed by Mr. Nixon, executive secretary and Gerald P. O'Neill, president of the Chamber, follow:

"The executive committee of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, at a special meeting called Thursday afternoon, April 12, have instructed men to write you commending your action in relation to the proposed state income tax.

"The executive committee represents some 500 members of the Chamber of Commerce and we feel sure that they are almost unanimous in their approval of your decision in voting negative. Sincere congratulations."

Administration Offers To Put Off Decision On UMT Until Draft Extender Passes

Washington, (AP)—The administration gave ground under slashing House attacks on its universal military training proposal yesterday, offering to put off the real decision. By that means it might save the form of a UMT program and at least get the planning started.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services committee, chief sponsor of the combined UMT-draft extension bill, made the offer.

He told newsmen he will sponsor an amendment to require later approval by both branches of Congress before any training plan goes into actual operation.

As the bill now stands the program would be planned by a civilian commission to be named by the President. The commission would submit its outline to the lawmakers. Either house would have a veto but it would require affirmative action to turn down the plan submitted.

Under Vinson's new proposal it would require positive approval by both House and Senate, the same as with a new law, to make the commission's proposal effective.

Besides the fuller chance to kill the whole thing, the new language would give Congress a chance to make any changes it desired in the outline submitted. Under the measure's present provisions the vote would be on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

The bill as it came out of committee would extend the draft law, lower the induction age from 19 to 18½ years, and set up the machinery for a universal training program to go into effect after the emergency draft for actual service ends.

Vinson predicted to newsmen that the House will approve an amendment to be offered by Rep. Kilday (D-Tex.) which would practically junk the administration's plan for a nationwide deferment test for college students.

The amendment, which stipulate that no deferment be granted solely on the basis of a student's showing in such an examination. Vinson explained that it would continue student deferment practically as it is under existing law. Students would be deferred to the end of their academic year and local draft boards would decide after that.

Labor Agrees To Serve On Advisory Mobilization Board

Washington, (AP)—Organized labor yesterday made its first move back into the mobilization program which it bolted five weeks ago. Union chiefs agreed to serve on President Truman's 17-man Advisory Mobilization board.

Mr. Truman was reported to be "very happy" about it and the union leaders themselves said they hoped it would lead to a complete solution of the problems which led to their boycott of the mobilization program on February 28.

The decision to sit on the overall advisory board which will help determine policy in the crucial defense planning of the future, was announced in the cabinet room of the White House after an hour and a half conference between President Truman and almost all of the big labor chieftains. They represented the United Labor Policy committee (ULPC). Only big gun missing from the company was John L. Lewis, who was not invited.

The Mobilization Advisory board will hold its first meeting, with President Truman sitting in, on Monday.

Six Counties Ban Raffles, Bingo Games

Albany, N. Y. (AP)— New York's snowballing drive on gambling left housewives across the state with out their favorite game yesterday.

Six counties banned bingo games and raffles, and there were indications more counties would follow. Many housewives play bingo—also known as beano or keeno—attracted by prizes of merchandise, groceries or cash.

In Rochester, where 14 bingo halls were closed, Police Chief Herbert Killip said the ban would include raffles or "any other form of gambling in which people pay for a chance."

"We don't care who or what organization is running the affair," he said.

Church groups are among organizations that use raffles to raise benefit funds.

The ban on bingo padlocked club and lodge games in Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Batavia and Ogdensburg.

This Government Employee Made $5,000 For U. S.

Pittsburgh (AP)—A government employee made $5,000 for Uncle Sam yesterday.

He's M. V. Harrington, deputy chief of operations, U. S. Corps of Engineers, who had the job of hoisting removal of a sunken steel barge from the Allegheny river near Pittsburgh. The job cost $15,000.

Harrington turned around and sold the salvaged barge for $20,000. He said: "It's the first chance I've had in 15 years to make the government some money."

Last night, Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston made a frenetic radio appeal to labor and management to end their "friction" and cooperate toward beating down inflation.

He said: "Unless their attitude is changed, and a spirit of co-operation in this national emergency takes place, our whole rearmament program could be endangered."

Johnston said that "frankly, labor and management are just as far apart" as they ever were in their differences over how the mobilization program should be run, particularly the method of settling labor disputes.

Saying there is "no slightest evidence anywhere that inflation is in general retreat," Johnston intimated that the labor-management feuding is at least partly responsible.

Sobell Given 30 Years As Atomic Spy

New York (AP)— A wartime husband and wife atom spy team was sentenced to death yesterday—the first Americans in the nation's history so doomed for such treachery.

They are Julius Rosenberg and his wife Ethel, who ferreted out A-bomb secrets for a Russian-based international spy ring.

Military courts have sentenced native American spies to death in the past, but a civil court never has.

A third defendant, radar expert Morton Sobell, was convicted with the Rosenbergs. But he escaped the death penalty and got 30 years in prison instead.

In a grave but stinging lecture, sentencing Judge Irving R. Kaufman said the Rosenbergs' treason—in his own opinion—led to the war in Korea.

The result, he added, has been 50,000 American casualties already. Moreover, he said, their crime may yet doom to flaming atomic death millions more innocent citizens.

"By your betrayal you undoubtedly have altered the course of history to the disadvantage of our country," Judge Kaufman told the Rosenbergs.

The death sentence, Judge Kaufman said, must "demonstrate with finality that this nation's security must remain inviolate—that traffic in military secrets, whether promoted by slavish devotion to a foreign ideology or by a desire for monetary gains, must cease."

He set the week of May 21 for the executions.

However, both Rosenbergs have said they will appeal their jury conviction of last week. Such an appeal could delay their execution for many months and might even save their lives if successful.

Sobell, 34, drew the maximum prison sentence—30 years. Judge Kaufman—admitting Sobell's lesser guilt—nevertheless recommended that he not be paroled and that he serve the full term.

Judge Kaufman put off until today the sentencing of Mrs. Rosenberg's brother, David Greenglass, 29-year-old former Army sergeant.

He confessed his part in the traitorous wartime spy plot and became a star government witness against his sister. His witness stand evidence was a dramatic highlight of the trial, pitting as it did brother against sister.

Greenglass said the Rosenbergs talked him into turning over atom bomb secrets when he was a soldier stationed at Los Alamos, N. M., in 1944. Los Alamos was the cradle of America's top secret A-bomb program during the late war years.

Judge Kaufman urged that Congress stiffen the penalties for peacetime spying in this tense era of the A-bomb and the developing H-bomb.

The present peacetime maximum sentence of 20 years is not enough, he said.

Rosenberg, a 32-year-old electrical engineer, took the death sentence with outward calm, although his jaw muscles tightened.

He is New York born, son of parents who came from Russia.

His tiny, brunette wife, mother of two children, chattered gaily and was all smiles on the way to the court. But her gaily vanished at the judge's words and she grasped a red leather chair in front of her at the sentence. Her breathing quickened.

Only five feet tall and weighing about 100 pounds, Mrs. Rosenberg was born in the same lower East Side New York area as her husband. She is 35, daughter of a Russian-born father and an Austrian mother.

Judge Kaufman called her "a full-fledged partner in this crime."

In testimony during the trial Greenglass declared that he passed atom bomb data to Harry Gold, a Philadelphia biochemist. Gold confessed his guilt and was sentenced to 30 years. He, too, testified against the Rosenbergs.

Gold also got data from Dr. Klaus Fuchs, imprisoned British atom scientist, whose arrest a year ago first cracked the shell of the international spy ring.

30 Children Taken From Ferris Wheel

Camden, N. J. (AP)— Thirty children, many of them swinging in baskets 50 to 70 feet in the air, were rescued by firemen last night from a disabled ferris wheel.

The ferris wheel, part of a traveling carnival, ceased operating after a turnbuckle broke.

The firemen used a 100-foot aerial ladder in the rescue operation. None of the children was injured.

East Borough Council Votes Installation Of Blinker Light At Eagle Valley Corner

As a result of an auto accident which occurred on N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, just south of Eagle Valley corner last week, the east borough council has approved purchase of a blinker light to be installed at the Eagle Valley corner, it was learned here yesterday.

Council's action was initiated at its regular meeting this week.

Chief Burgess L. J. Kleinfelder presented a suggestion that the light be installed there after recalling that the one-car accident had caused a large amount of damage although none of the occupants was severely injured.

Residents in the area were summoned to an inconvenience when the car hit and brought down an electric light pole carrying wires which serviced homes and a small factory in the neighborhood.

Kleinfelder also stated that it might not be a bad idea to erect reflector signs at the approaches to the corner. Residents in the Eagle Valley area had mentioned this possibility, he said.

Council voted agreement as to the need for the blinker at the corner, and it was pointed out that the erection of a signal there had been discussed even before the N. Courtland St. project had been completed. Recognizing the urgency for traffic control at that point, the borough since time ago requested the State Highway Department for permission to establish a signal there at a later date.

When it was later announced that permits to place blinkers there and also at the intersection of E. Sixth St. and N. Courtland have been forwarded from the State department, the council followed through on the mayor's suggestion and passed a motion authorizing purchase of a control light for Eagle Valley corner.

The motion was presented by Councilman Elton P. Hall and Russell Yoch. Purchase of a blinker for the E. Sixth St. intersection was not included in the motion since that purchase had already been authorized by the council.

H. C. Garaventi, manager of the Art Metal plant in East Stroudsburg, appeared before the Monday meeting to discuss plans his company has been making for lease of a parking area near their plant.

In an effort to improve the parking conditions on Henry St., Garaventi said he would "try to work out something in accord with council's desires." Firemen had recently labeled the narrow, parked full street as a hazard in the event of fire in that neighborhood.

A $200 expenditure to ensure a water supply there had already been approved by the council.

Other motions passed by the council included one which authorizes payment for the borough's new tractor-bull dozer as soon as delivery of all parts is made, another which directs the purchasing committee to investigate possibility of a grease gun for the fire department, as well as one authorizing extension of the guard rail on Lackawanna Ave. 50 feet at each end.

Atty. Charles R. Bensinger reported that the Lackawanna Railroad has applied for revision of the Public Utility commission order regarding services of a watchman at Millford Crossing after school hours.

Date for the hearing will be set by the PUC, the attorney said.

Question whether civil defense auxiliary firemen are covered by the insurance policy which covers regular firemen was placed under study.

Councilman Hall announced balance of $52,779.32 in the water fund, $12,532.65 in the general fund, $5,379.21 in the highway fund, and March parking meter receipts of $881.31.

Casualties Rise 1,430 In Week

Washington (AP)—Announced American casualties in Korea reached 58,550 yesterday, a rise of 1,430 in a week.

The total, representing casualties reported to next of kin through March 30, included 8,753 killed, 39,023 wounded and 10,774 missing in action.

Of the wounded, 1,025 have since died. The missing figure includes 87 known dead, making total combat deaths 9,865.

The missing figure also includes 1,094 who have since returned to U. S. control and 112 known prisoners of war, leaving 9,481 currently missing.

Dr. W. R. Erickson will be away from his office this Friday and Saturday, attending Osteopathic convention.

S. W. Roberts Headmaster At Perkiomen

Stephen W. Roberts, former science teacher and coach of athletics at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, has been named headmaster of Perkiomen School, Pottsville, Pa.

Mr. Roberts was elected by the executive board headed by Dr. Montfort Melchior and Wayne Meschter, in a combined meeting with the general board of the school on April 3.

The new Perkiomen headmaster made an outstanding record at the local college as a coach of football, baseball and basketball. In the latter sport his teams won the State Teachers Colleges championship for two successive seasons.

He developed such players as Peter Paul Pasko, John Mascavage, Joe Sager, LaVerne Disque, Astor Ritter and others who have gained State and national recognition in the sport.

In 1943, Mr. Roberts left here on a call to Beaver Dam, Wis., as teacher and director of public relations in the Wayland Academy and Junior College. During eight years at that school he was head of admissions and in charge of the publicity and public relations of the institutions.

In first two years, enrollment more than doubled and a successful financial campaign was begun which made possible building of a $250,000 gymnasium and swimming pool, new dormitory additions, heating plant, infirmary. He also inaugurated an alumni annual gift fund which now has over $50,000 in gifts from 600 donors.

Collectors To Show Stamps

The Allentown Philatelic society, Allentown, will present a stamp exhibition at the Hotel Trolley in Allentown, on April 13, 14 and 15. The exhibition will include approximately 200 frames and an exhibit from the United States Post office department in Washington, D. C. Several Monroe county collectors will exhibit.

A bourse of stamp dealers from New York, Philadelphia and Allentown will be present. There will be two grand awards, one for members and one for non-members, also trophies for each class.

The exhibition banquet will be held on Saturday at 6:30 P. M. at the hotel, for which reservations must be made in advance.

At previous exhibitions, it has been the custom of this society to select as its theme, either a local historical event, or a prominent citizen, to be honored in the program, cachet cover, and seals. This year's theme will thus honor the late Gen. Harry Clay Trexler, one of Allentown's outstanding citizens in life and revered benefactor in death.

An illustrated philatelic souvenir program, in addition to the regular program items, will include philatelic articles by Stephen G. Rich, Jere Hess Barr, James B. Shaner Sr., Sol Glass. Also included will be a descriptive, illustrated article on the National Philatelic Museum in Philadelphia, of which Bernard Davis is director. ## Cherry Lane

Mrs. William Clugston

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eckhardt enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Eckhardt's brother and family on Saturday afternoon, who motored to the locality for the occasion. Mrs. Eckhardt, who has been more or less confined to her home for months, was able to enjoy a short ride with her relatives during the course of the visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dreiss and family, of Union City, N. J., visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hauser, over a recent weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Edinger, of East Stroudsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Leuenroth, of Bartonsville, spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lank.

"Bobby" Hartman, who flew back to "Scarritt" College, Nashville, Tenn., from Philadelphia, after her visit with her parents, the Stanley Hartmans, writes she arrived in Nashville before her mother, who motored back to Monroe county from Philadelphia, reached her home here.

Fred Miller and William Clugston have been assisting John Ruchtie in the removal of the many trees from the paths of his famous tulip and begonia gardens, which had blown over in the big storm of the past winter.

The PP&L have been running service poles and wires into the new building being erected by David Lesoine opposite his parents' home.

The women workers of the Cherry Lane church, assisted by the following friends: Mrs. Adelaide Volkert, Hattie Williams, Vida Sickler, Mary Sebring, Nettie Freeland, Martha Henry, have been working on a quilt of fan design which will be disposed of for the benefit of the church.

Roman Quits As Academy Headmaster

Blairtown, N. J.—Benjamin D. Roman, headmaster of Blair Academy since 1946, has resigned his post with the private school, it was learned here yesterday.

The resignation, effective June 30, was presented to a special meeting of the school's trustees after Mr. Roman indicated that the board is no longer in sympathy with his work at the school.

At the same time, the board announced termination of the contracts of two faculty members, both of whom are associated with the school's athletic program.

They are Chester W. Williams, a member of the history department and swimming coach for 37 years, and Stephen Kuk, history teacher and baseball coach. Williams' dismissal is immediate, while Kuk's contract will be terminated at the end of the school year.

Kuk, a former professional baseball player with the Newark Bears, was manager of the Bloomingdale, N. J., Troopers baseball team when that club was operating in the class D North Atlantic baseball league.

Blakeslee

Prof. and Mrs. Franklin Jones, of Hatboro, spent the weekend at their cottage here.

John and Mary Kalanosky made a business trip to Wilkes-Barre, Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Keiper and Mrs. John Hanna called on Mrs. Grace Bush Tuesday afternoon.

A number of relatives and friends from this place were shocked to learn of the death last week of William Keiper, of Noxen. Mr. Keiper was a son of the late Tilghman and Lydia Keiper, who were pioneer residents of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Hayes attended the funeral. Mr. Gailey, Mrs. Hayes' father, was unable to attend because of impaired health. Mr. Gailey was a brother-in-law of Mr. Keiper.

John Kalanosky has gone to New York City for a visit with his sister.

The WSCS will meet Thursday night at the home of Mrs. W. E. Waltz.

Mrs. Helen Hanna had the following callers Saturday afternoon: Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bisping, of Stroudsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. John Saxe, of Tobyhanna.

Jimmy Wildrick, who has been ill, is better.

Mrs. Elizabeth Reichers, Mrs. A. T. Blakeslee Sr.'s mother, has been very ill for the past week suffering from pneumonia. The latest report from the sick room is that she is recovering in spite of her advanced age of 85 years.

The WSCS is quitting this week trying to finish the work they have on hand.

Williams Declares Home Front Not Without Blame For National Immorality

Stroudsburg—A plea for a more moral way of life to gain greater morality in government was sounded here before the West End's Lions club by Atty. Arlington W. Williams, of Stroudsburg.

Attorney Williams was the guest speaker at the meeting which the club held at the Diamond Inn here Wednesday night.

Taking "morality" as his topic, the Stroudsburg lawyer cited world conditions as they exist today, also referring to the recent U. S. Senate Crime investigation by the Kefauver committee and the Reconstruction Finance Corp. scandal.

The speaker took the view that the home front is not without blame for the national level shady deals and other evidence of corruption. "If we had more morals among ourselves, we wouldn't have all this corruption," he claimed.

The attorney added that we should start building a more moral way of life in "our own home communities and towns."

He emphasized that every individual should, in some way, shape or form, let his brother man know he stands for morality and the better way of life.

During the business meeting, it was announced that the West End club will sponsor a series of amateur shows at the Chestnut Hill High school, Brodheadville, on April 25, May 31 and June 13. Weston Fenner, of Brodheadville, former president of the club, heads the committee in charge of the entertainments.

He said $160 in prizes will be offered to the grand winners. Breakdown of the awards will be $50 for first place, $40 for second, $30 for third, $25 for fourth and $15 for fifth place.

The board of governors approved a donation of $25 to the Monroe County Mathematical tournament now in progress in county schools, and it was also decided to provide annual prizes for the salutary and valedictory students in each year's graduating class at the Chestnut Hill High school.

Next meeting of the West End club will be held April 17, at which time they will meet at the Penn-

Saving by Accident

The American taxpayer slept a lot more peacefully the other night after President Truman scaled down his request for new taxes by almost 40 per cent. Instead of the 16½ billions previously indicated, the 10 billions already asked will suffice—at least until January.

The announcement is not quite so comforting as one might hope. It doesn't come from any greater prudence in managing governmental affairs or in eliminating visionary schemes from the budget. There has been no reduction of padded payrolls or anything like that. Instead, Mr. Truman and his fiscal experts have reduced their requests only because the year's surplus will be larger than had been indicated previously.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, however, warned that spending is beginning to pick up and will soon exceed the rate at which revenue is being collected. He, therefore, called for early enactment of the previously proposed levies which would net four billions in individual income tax returns and three billions each in corporation and excise levies.

Snyder says it is up to Congress to enact "forceful and timely legislation." But there are many in Congress, and also many of their constituents, who hope that more fat can be fried from the budget. It is the old story: The people don't object to providing revenue essential for governmental operation, but they don't want to be burdened by costs of socialized medicine and a lot of things of like nature which have been rejected time and time again when the fiscal situation wasn't nearly so acute as it is today.

Annual Sessions

There would seem to be a great deal of good sense in the move to make the sessions of the Pennsylvania General Assembly annual rather than biennial ones, as indicated in the bill approved by the State Senate and expected to receive House concurrence.

As Senator Newell Wood of Luzerne, commented on his measure, meeting every two years was all right when there was but a small budget to consider, but with present-day billion dollar budgets apparently due to recur for an indefinite period, the once-a-year meeting of the senators and representatives at Harrisburg is a sensible suggestion.

However the voters of Pennsylvania will have to make the final decision since an amendment to the State Constitution would be necessary for final adoption of the proposal.

What's the Plane For?

Senator Holland, a Pittsburgh Democrat, says the State Commerce Department has ordered an airplane, to cost $100,000.

He claims the plane would be used to tote State officials around the country at the taxpayers' expense.

What for?

It might be reasonable for the State to buy a plane for the use of State officials traveling on State business, in or out of Pennsylvania.

But if this is to be a Commerce Department plane, that's another question. There is a grave question about whether we need a Commerce Department.

No RFC Loan Needed

General Motors has announced net profits in 1950 of 834 million dollars.

This mighty sum exceeds the combined profits of 125 Class I railroads, and is also well above the combined earnings of the entire steel industry.

It seems safe to say that GM, for the moment at least, is a healthy corporation.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

The junior partner of a celebrated firm called a prospective client on the phone. The client's secretary said he wasn't in, but added, "Will you please repeat the full name of your firm—and very slowly, so I can spell it out?"

"Certainly," said the lawyer courteously. "Here goes: Sullivan, O'Casey, Ginsburg, Hockenbury, Wilson, Malarky, Somerset, and Maugham." Got it?"

"Yes, thanks," cooed the operator. "Until you called, I was beside myself thinking up enough names for a litter of pups our dog just produced."

Uncle Zeke's mule was proving more obstreperous than usual, having just kicked over the tool-house and a considerable section of back fence. Just you notice how de better he does it de more unpopular he gits!"

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—The boy was blond. "Way up there in Trigger's saddle, he seemed very small. He'd come with a lot of questions to ask Roy Rogers. Now that he was actually meeting his hero, the excitement had him tongue-tied."

The lad was 6-year-old Tommy Lane, of Merced, Calif. On his neck was a lump, the mark of Hodgkin's disease. While Roy walked Trigger to give Tommy a ride, his mother told me the lump started growing about three months ago.

This chronic enlargement of the lymphatic glands is marked by progressive anemia. Up to now, said Mrs. Hazel Lane, the disease always has proved fatal. But doctors at the University of California are trying a new kind of pill on Tommy. He takes one a week. The new drug and Tommy's youth offer the only hope for him.

Every Sunday, Tommy and his playmates listen to Roy's western adventures on the radio. The boys pretend they are Rogers, the girls that they are his wife and co-star, Dale Evans. About once a month the youngsters see one of Roy's movies at the Saturday westerns. Mrs. Lane, a divorcee, who works in an insurance office, knew it would be a big thrill if her stricken son could meet his cowboy hero.

She brought him here and telephoned Roy's studio. The studio referred her to Rogers' personal representative, who arranged the meeting on the "South of Caliente" set.

Roy led Trigger, with Tommy aboard, a half block down the western street on the studio back lot. I turned to ask Mrs. Lane something, but she was crying. The little caravan came back. Trigger nuzzled Mrs. Lane as if he understood the importance of the meeting. Roy told a story on his own son, Dusty, 4½, had smashed about 10 flower pots last weekend—and had got his pants dusted for the deed.

Roy walked Trigger away two more times with Tommy, once clear around a whole block of movie-prop buildings. A hopeful two minutes with the star had turned into at least 15. The still photographer took a picture, and Mrs. Lane snapped some with her own camera.

Rogers lifted Tommy down. "What were those questions you were going to ask Roy?" Mrs. Lane asked her son. He grinned and hid self-consciously behind his mother's coat. The questions were about Roy's guns and whether he always kills the bad men.

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

The other day I was in Tucson, Arizona, and I went to the Rotary club there to listen to the chief of the Papagos deliver one of the most eloquent speeches that I had ever heard. His name is Thomas A. Segundo and he is so obviously a leader of men that were he not an Indian—a ward of the Department of the Interior—he could have been a member of Congress without any loss to that august body.

What struck me so closely is that we, who are so eager to aid every nation on earth, do practically nothing for those from whom we have taken this country; that we violate our treaties with them; and that there are bills in Congress, at the present moment, designed to rob them, to steal their lands, and to deprive them of the best benefits remaining to them. Perhaps we need a point four program for the American Indian right here at home.

Millions, if not billions of dollars, have been spent by the American taxpayer on the Indian bureau, but there is little evidence to show benefits to the Indian from these expenditures. In fact, it would seem, from the results, that the design of the bureau has been to make the Indian more dependent upon the bureaucrats. The Papagos, for instance, can report that they have fewer schools and hospitalization facilities than 10 years ago.

Most Americans might look at the figure of 2,855,021 acres that the Papagos have as a reservation, and assume that they are land rich. But Arizona is an arid country, its desert lands being among the least productive in the United States. I am told that in many parts of the west, the Indian reservations are on bad lands, where living is difficult unless oil or minerals are found and the Indians are not robbed. We know too little about these people whom we conquered. We who have the advantage of living here, owe them, at least, the debt of fair treatment.

I have, on several occasions, in these pieces, called attention to the facts that the so-called pigmented peoples of the world, in Europe, Asia and Africa, distrust the United States more than they do Soviet Russia. The reason is that they are more offended by our social attitude toward the pigmented people in our midst. Soviet Russia has taken full advantage of this and has conducted a long and successful propaganda against this country on the basis of what they call "white supremacy."

While not accepting the Russian version of our social position, I cannot deny that they have presented a picture which Chinese, Indians, Iranians, Pakistanis, and all the peoples of Africa accept as true. In Korea, many of our major difficulties have arisen from the belief that all Americans hate and like to kill those who are not white.

This presents a serious problem for a nation which is seeking allies among these very people. Certainly our treatment of the American Indian confines the suspicion of unfairness. Even if we cannot be responsible for our ancestors' did, we must avoid doing more of the same, and if we do not behave decently for the sake of the American Indian, we might from the standpoint of national self-interest.

I was told that some of the most outrageous bills introduced in Congress are designed to rob the Indian of his lands in the interest of oil companies which know of oil deposits beneath the soil.

It would be advantageous to the United States to give the Indian a square deal, to make him an independent American citizen, and to protect him in his economic rights. We have taken a good country from him, we have treated other peoples whom we have conquered, the Cubans, the Filipinos, the Japanese and the Germans, with fairness. We can treat the Indians with fairness and justice.

Money wasted by a Washington bureau does not always indicate benefits to those who require them. Perhaps if we consulted the American Indians, they might come up with a better program than we have yet seen.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Stand By For Tow-Car! — It looks like the Administration slogan this summer will be "A tow-car in every garage" and two hitch-hikers in every home!" No decisions in the defense program have baffled the public more than the ones from Detroit and Washington eliminating the spare tire. The question before the house is, "What do you do when you get a flat? Write your congressman, wigwag the 'What's Your Problem?' hour or pull over to the side of the road and cry, 'A horse, a horse, my kingdom for a taxicab!'" The song of America for 1951 may be "Coming in on a flat and a prayer."

Up to now we had thought it generally conceded that the blow out was here to stay. From the day of the first horseless carriage the spare tire has been a "must." Nobody had even hinted that in case of a puncture three tires on the family flier would be enough. But now comes the official word that in case of a flat you should see what you can do by substituting an ashtray, a dashboard gadget, a yard of deluxe upholstery or some hubble gum.

War is war and defense is defense. If there is a rubber shortage we have all got to cooperate. But you will pardon this corner for asking to what extent the defense effort, national morale and general progress will be aided by making every auto trip a special hazard? Won't the towing service companies be the chief beneficiaries? In the darkest days of the Civil War did Lincoln insist on only three horsehoes to a horse?

Most of the big auto companies are leaving out the spare, and the National Production Authority approves the idea. The theory is presumably that you can buy a spare at a tire store, but the stampede to do this has already been terrific and may result in the biggest black market in history inside of a year. One suggestion is that an autoist should get an old tire for a spare, using it only until he can get the blow-out repaired. This could result in a bull market for rubber right off the junk piles. The one certain thing is that few autoists will feel like long trips unless they have Aladdin and his Wonderful Lamp as companions.

Is the auto with only one door a possibility? May we soon see a 1951 model with one headlight eliminated to conserve metal? Can we count on the demi-tasse bumper and half a squirrel tail on the radiator cap? Are the engineers at work on a three-wheel sedan? Who can tell?

We asked Elmer Twitchell about it today. He was about to sound off when he suddenly got a phone call that made him turn purple. It was Mrs. Twitchell announcing that their new flier had been delivered with the motor missing!

The Real News Newsreel Shudda Haddim reports poor success at Jamaica because of the absence of tropical birds and flowers. "If only a pink seagull would show up to give northern racin' the winter resort mood!" he sighs. "The Big Show" harps too much on Tallulah's age and figure and most of the gags are strictly for the performers own "amazement"...Punniest thing of the year: Frank Costello's offer to help the Kefauver Committee stop lawlessness and saying, "If the committee had let me talk to them my own way I might have been helpful...The Saratoga Inquiry should definitely locate the fellow who didn't know the place was running wide open and thought those clubs were restaurants...Yesterday" was flawless and wonderful, but ye ed thinks Broderick Crawford was terrific in it, too, and that the same flicker gives a perfect performance by Bill Holden. (Only picture we've seen twice in a decade)...In "Everybody Calls Me Father," Father X points to the character every parish knows thusly: "Big Jim was a big shot. He always got an important job on the committee raising money for charity because if he did not, he would not contribute. He makes a speech in which he always calls on everybody to make our city the pride of the nation. Because of the strain of this speech on his health, he goes to Florida and lays a thousand across the board on a broken-down nag. The nag comes in fifth but this does not matter to Big Jim...because he never has been hungry and never goes nearer the poor than he does at the banquet closing the charity drive"...This time Mr. Rodgers and Mr. Hammerstein are not breaking any fresh trails.—Brooks Atkinson, "Rodgers and Hammerstein have cut away from the usual musical show pattern again."—John Chapman. Why dramatic review readers go mad!

Governor Dewey has signed the bill making videos in autos illegal. He wants no instance where the defense for an accident will be "Your honor, Howdy Doody blocked my view of the red light."

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington — The Baltimore bogey man story about a Chicago gangland style ride and kidnapping that ex-Senator Millard Tydings sold to the Senate committee investigating subcommittee has now been filed away under the heading of election fiction.

I find it impossible to let the former Maryland senator completely off the hook, however, without this final reminder dealing with his great indignation when he discovered that Maryland voters had rejected him by a 43,000-vote margin.

When Tydings stepped up before the Senate investigating group, he verbally pawed and slugged the man who beat him, Senator John Marshall Butler, in an unmerciful manner. Butler had to take this attack on his integrity. Subcommittee members in a sharp break with precedent sat mute while a fellow member of the most exclusive club in the world got the works. They appeared awed by the bitter verbosity of ex-Senator Tydings.

Back in 1947 when Herbert O'Connor, the Maryland Democrat, squeaked into the Senate there were charges of vote shenanigans that led to an investigation. Senator William Jenner, Republican of Indiana, was in charge of that probe. Tydings was naturally indignant that a fellow Democrat from Maryland was being investigated. He had a lot to say. Some of what he had to say back in 1947 is interesting if you keep in mind how this year he declared that Senator Butler had won the election by fraud and slander. For instance (quoting from the 1947 Tydings):

"It is a serious matter to attempt to influence a case by innuendo. Men's reputations in their communities have been ruined by the re-babbling of petty gossip that quite often had no real semblance to truth in the beginning."

The fable of the midnight kidnapping ride is somewhat more vicious than petty gossip, but Tydings didn't hesitate in peddling it. Here is some more pure Tydings, circa 1947, that is interesting in view of the Tydings of today:

"Oh, it is a terrible thing to take a seat in the Senate away from a man who the governor of his state says should represent the state in the Senate, without there being a clear line that shows such to be the honorable course. The only approach to the question ought to be clean and nonpartisan and completely above board."

The governor of Maryland certified that Senator Butler is the elected member of the Senate from his state. Tydings was loquacious about this in 1947 when Senator O'Connor, a fellow Democrat, was in the clutches. It doesn't apply, apparently, to the man who beat Tydings.

O'Connor is an able member of the U. S. Senate. When his election was investigated on vote fraud charges, Tydings arose with fervor in the Senate and delivered this:

"I am standing here defending an ex-serviceman (O'Connor) of World War One who has not had in my judgment a square deal, by having one side giving out evidence purporting to be official, coming from one of the attorneys to a contest, while the other side is told it must not give out a single statement."

"I say that when it has been determined that a matter shall be investigated, sunlight is one of the strongest elements to convince the public that the government is being conducted along righteous lines."

Now that sounds mighty fine. It might be pointed out here, however, that Senator Butler also is an ex-serviceman of World War One. And as for the demands about "sunlight" lived to witness a dream come true. So much sunlight has been directed to his charge of a gangland kidnapping that some of the participants are wearing dark glasses.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

We men are often being accused by our wives of not taking sufficient interest in the most important matters of fashion, home decoration and cuisine.

Many wives claim that their husbands never notice it when they wear a stunning new dress or hat. On the other hand, men immediately complain when their wives look the least bit unattractive.

Men also seem to be entirely unaware of a new lamp, a different arrangement of the furniture, a much-labored-over flower arrangement.

As far as meals are concerned, wives are in complete accord about the indifference of husbands when there is a delectable special dish on the table, but scream like stabbed pigs when there is the slightest shortcoming in their dinner.

I think the wives have a point. We do take them too much for granted. We are too concerned with making the money for what they buy. But we do not show any interest in the things they DO buy, except an occasional remark such as "No wonder you never have enough money. Do you think I am a gold mine or something?"

I consider it my duty to tell you fellow men something about these fashion and home affairs, so that you can at least simulate interest and occasionally talk about them with your wives.

Consequently I have read the New York women's pages very diligently the past few days and made copious notes.

Unfortunately, however, I am not an expert. So, what in my notes appears as something about a new dress or hat, may really be a cooking recipe, or vice versa.

You will have to excuse any mistakes, although it really makes little difference.

Here is the first item that has me puzzled.

The note says "Anguille Mode de Chef Angletier" and right after that "Balenciaga's original cardigan coat in oatmeal-colored chinchilla."

I remember from the days I studied French that "anguille" is "eel," and I am almost sure that women are not wearing any eels on their heads as yet.

By the same token, however, what does "oatmeal" do on a coat?

Could it be that the chinchilla ate oatmeal for breakfast and got in over its fur?

It must be that sort of stuff that gets men all mixed up. Don't you think so?

Here is another note:

"The fashion show at the Ritz was prefaced by some organdie party aprons designed and sewn by Mrs. Eddie Rickenbacker. They are bits of sheer delight with bandings of embroidered French ribbon."

Personally I don't know what aprons are doing at parties. I must ask Eddie Rickenbacker, whom I know, to ask his wife about it.

But again you can see why we husbands get mixed up.

Here is a note, however, which is entirely clear.

"Among the popular new wall paper is one which shows gold polka dots on black."

I can also tell you confidentially that "tube coats of Abyssinian monkey fur" are very stylish this season.

I hope I have helped you.

Monroe County Goes Over Top In Annual Red Cross Campaign

$11,272 Goal Exceeded In Local Drive

Despite a 30 per cent increase in quota to meet emergency demands for greatly increased service, Monroe county has exceeded its $11,272 goal in the 1951 Red Cross drive.

This was announced last night by William H. Palmer, campaign chairman, who added that complete figures will be disclosed as soon as all workers have filed their solicitation reports with the county campaign headquarters. He asked that these reports be turned in as quickly as possible.

Mr. Palmer also publicly thanked all persons who contributed to this year's expanded quota and also to the various solicitors and other campaign workers.

Names of contributors will continue to be published in The Daily Record from time to time until the list is complete.

Every section of the county produced excellent results, although their quotas were proportionately increased to meet the new budget requirements for Red Cross service.

Additional service demands have already been noted here, especially in the field of work for men and women in service and the assistance Red Cross extends to their families in varied emergencies.

W. J. Pritchard Found Dead

Bangor — William John Pritchard, 54-year-old former slate worker, was found dead yesterday at his home, 639 Pennsylvania Ave.

Dr. Nicholas M. Romano, Bangor physician and Northampton county deputy coroner, issued a death by suicide verdict late yesterday after completing a full investigation.

The victim was found hanging at the top of an attic stairway by Police Chief William Grigg and Walter Pritchard, Bangor board supervisor. They went to Mr. Pritchard's home and forced an entrance after neighbors notified Chief Grigg that the victim had not been seen about his home since the early part of the week.

The victim, who came to this country from Wales in his early youth, has no survivors in this region, although his surname is quite common in the Slate Belt area.

Neighbors said they last saw Mr. Pritchard, who lived alone, on Monday night. He was a veteran of the First World War, having served in the Army's Quartermaster Corps for several years.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Stoddard funeral home, with Rev. Philip E. Rimel, pastor of Mackey Memorial Baptist church, as the officiating clergyman. Interment will take place in St. John's cemetery at Bangor.

Group Meets To Organize Young Democratic Club

A group of about 50 young people met Wednesday night at the Indian Queen hotel in Stroudsburg to discuss tentative plans for the formation of a Young Democratic organization in Monroe county. Under the temporary chairmanship of John Brislin and Detlef A. Hansen, it was emphasized by them and others that the meeting had been called as the result of an obvious need, and was only a preliminary gathering whose decisions could be changed in the future.

Mr. Hansen pointed out that there was no intention to set up any club which would compete with the regular county Democratic organization, but rather a club which would have social and political aims attractive to young people who were frequently not members of the county organization.

Discussing the potential activities of this club, it became immediately apparent that most of the present thought that voter registration and education were the two most important items. Both these were viewed prime necessities on every level of work and in every area of the county. Speaking from the floor, Democratic County Vice-Chairman Jacob Altemus pointed out that there were large numbers of potential voters who were either unregistered, or wrongly registered.

"There is," said Mr. Altemus, "much work to be done in this field, although any young group should keep its social activities high on the work list."

On the matter of voter education, John Brislin said, "We must take it upon ourselves to see that Monroe County's voters are no longer sold the same old bill of goods. Look for instance, how the present governor was against state income taxes when he campaigned; now he is for them. Look at the amount of talk caused by a small fraction of the majority in the state legislature because they voted against the new tax; while the Democrats in both State Senate and Assembly voted 100% against the income tax without the public even knowing it. There is a job of education which we can, and will, do."

For purposes of temporary organization, those present divided the county into several areas and selected a leader in each one. All interested leader will call a meeting in the area within the next three weeks, at which time a representative to the executive council of the new club will be chosen. These elected representatives in turn will organize their areas, and ask all interested persons to be present at the next general meeting, to be held in Mt. Pocono on Wednesday, April 25.

The temporary leaders were designated as follows: Delaware Water Gap, Paul Meixell; Smithfield and Middle Smithfield townships, Harry Ahnert; Coolbaugh, Tobyhanna and Tunkhannock townships, Herb Altemus; Mt. Pocono, Ellen Regan; Paradise and Price townships, Bob Fellencher; Barrett township, Ed Somers; Stroud and Pocono townships, Albert Quigley; Stroudsburg, Bud Hay; East Stroudsburg, Pearley Hunt. Interested people in Hamilton, Jackson, Chestnut Hill, Polk, Ross and Eldred townships are asked to call their Democratic committeemen or Mr. Hansen in Stroudsburg.

Plants Offer Facilities For Defense Work

The industrial mobilization proposed by Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce to obtain additional defense contracts for this region was advanced last night to the point where cooperating firms will be listed and their facilities and skills offered to Washington ordinance headquarters to ascertain if the community project can qualify for defense contract work.

Meeting at the Penn-Stroud hotel with H. G. Sanborn Jr., vice president of Worthington Mower Co. as chairman, representatives of all local industry heard a complete outline of the plan which would operate on a basis similar to the York plan at York, Pa., and others now working successfully as community projects.

Before proceeding with either the corporate details of the project or the financial structure required, the facilities, skills and capacities of all the cooperating plants will first have to stand the Washington test for a prime contractor.

Attorney C. D. Shull, chairman of the organizational committee for the project, told the industrialists a business corporation would be organized under the laws of Pennsylvania with broad enough corporate qualifications to permit the organization to everything a manufacturing corporation does.

The corporate group of industrialists would be headed by a board of directors elected by all who contribute to the financial structure. This group would correlate all the facilities and skills for application to any production project.

A key advisory committee would function beneath the directors. These men would be chosen by the board for specific, recognized skills.

A full-time man capable of correlating all skills and facilities and applying them to defense contracts would be hired. He would also do the "leg work" to obtain suitable defense contract work and be able to translate such contracts into local skills and facilities.

Mr. Shull said the strength and prestige of the corporate function would rest in all the manufacturers connected with it.

"It is strictly a community venture and to be a success must have community action," Mr. Shull advised.

As such a venture, he emphasized, "you can go into Washington and gain entry."

Mr. Sanborn added that small business must get together all over, and unless they do and fight their way to obtain their share of

Mrs. Keller, 83, Expires In Borough

Mrs. Verde Freas Keller, 83, 605 Thomas St., Stroudsburg, died at 7 p. m. yesterday at her home. Mrs. Keller had been active in Stroudsburg Methodist church for a half century. She had headed the primary department of the Sunday school there for 50 years.

She was the widow of Charles Brown Keller Jr. Mr. Keller, one of this community's ablest bankers had served as cashier of Stroudsburg National Bank, now First Stroudsburg National Bank for many years. He played an important role in the growth of that institution.

Mrs. Keller was born in Berwick, Pa., the daughter of the late Henry and Dorothy Bowman Freas. She came here after she was married 60 years ago and spent the remainder of her life here.

In addition to her outstanding Sunday school and church work, Mrs. Keller was a charter member of the Stroudsburg Woman's club and the Jacob Stroud Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by William R. Thomas, Stroudsburg funeral director.

Shawnee

Dana Witercraft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Witercraft, returned home on Saturday from the General hospital after undergoing a tonsillectomy the previous day.

Patricia Treible, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Treible, celebrated her eleventh birthday on Sunday.

Mrs. Alexander Coles drove her son, Alexander Coles Jr., to Harrisburg, Pa., on Sunday when he returned to St. James school, Hagerstown, Md., after his Easter vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Livingston Gearhart, accompanied by Raymond Lee, left on Tuesday on a three week duo-piano concert tour, which will take them through North and South Carolina and into Virginia.

Work and materials, thousands of them are threatened with failure all over the nation.

Attorney George T. Robinson, chairman of the committee on financial structure, said the corporate industrial project would be a profit-making corporation. It would be financed by selling stock to participating firms or others.

No capital figure was established for the proposed industrial mobilization corporation pending outcome of the Washington, D. C. check on qualification.

Mrs. Nielsen Succumbs In Gainesville

Word has been received from Gainesville, Fla., of the death of Mrs. Serena Brish Nielsen at 4 a. m. yesterday.

Mrs. Nielsen was born in Stroud township, Monroe county, March 8, 1884. During most of her life she lived in Blue Island, Ill., but had made her home in Gainesville for the past two and a half years. Mrs. Nielsen had been in ill health for the past 13 years.

She is survived by her father, Mahlon Brish of East Stroudsburg RD 2; a brother, Lewis Brish, of Bethlehem; a brother, Charles Brish of Blue Island, Ill.; a son, Gerald, of Gainesville; a daughter, Mrs. Alice Reynolds of Webster Grove, Mo. and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Enough clay tile for more than 1,100 average size bathrooms was used to finish walls and ceilings of the new $8,000,000 Washburn tunnel, under the Houston, Tex., ship channel.

EAST STROUDSBURG BIOLOGY CONTEST WINNERS—Shown with their projects are nine winners in the East Stroudsburg High biology contest. Each of the nine won divisional honors and one, John Smeltz, (fourth from the left) received the grand prize. From the left, the contestants are Jane Lipe, Beverly Long, Nancy May, Smeltz, Clyde Eilenberger, Russell Treible, Carl Smith, Andrew Secor and John McGarry.

130 Projects Entered In School Contest

Nearly 130 projects by East Stroudsburg High school students were entered in the annual biology contest conducted at the school this week under direction of Lewis R. Hastie, of the school's science department.

Hastie said yesterday that the exhibit will be open to the public during school hours today.

Grand prize of the whole exhibit was entered by John Smeltz. His diagram of anatomical charts not only was judged the best in that particular division, but it was also designated as the best of the 130 projects.

Winners in the various divisions judged Wednesday by Harold Lee, Walter Stem and Hastie, all of the faculty, were:

Division one—Nancy May, classified moss, terrarium, first; Nancy Hallett, wood collection, second; George Angle, display of county woods, third; Judy Shay, leaf collection, honorable mention.

Division two (anatomical charts): John Smeltz, first; Marilyn Dolan, second.

Division three (skeleton exhibits): Russell Treible, first with a squirrel skeleton; Morris Dawson, second with a frog skeleton.

Division four (balanced aquaria): No firsts, but honorable mention to James Kintz and Samuel Counterman.

Division five (plant and animal models): Laurence Miller, first; David Powell, second; Dick London, honorable mention.

Division six (flowers in wax): Jane Lipe, first. Division seven (model in soil erosion): William Seifass, honorable mention. Division eight (bacteria culture): William Altier, second. No first place awarded.

Division nine (models): John McGarry, first, prehistoric dinosaur; Dick Moore, second, model of hydra; Ronald Clapper, third, and William Lansdowne, honorable mention.

Division 10 (carved model of fish dissection): Clyde Eilenberger, first. Plant cultures, chemical—Andrew Secor, first; Janet Armistage, second. Application of biological principles to a hobby—Carl Smith, first, illustration of process involved in making fishing flies. Botanical drawings—Beverly Long, first.

Mrs. Peechatka's Condition 'Good'

Condition of Mrs. Florence Peechatka, 57, of 874 N. Ninth St., Arlington Heights, was reported "good" at Monroe County General hospital last night.

Mrs. Peechatka, a former resident of Bangor, was seriously injured Tuesday night when she was struck by an auto while crossing Route 611.

Business News In Monroe Area

Charles J. Cincotta, 820 Monroe St., Stroudsburg, has been appointed local representative of the E. A. Stout Realty Agency, Inc., one of the oldest and largest country real estate agencies in the world, with offices in New York City, and other principal cities.

Mr. Cincotta has resided in the Stroudsburgs for 30 years. He will conduct his business temporarily from his home, 820 Monroe St., Stroudsburg.

Under the Stout plan all representatives are bonded for the protection of the public. The Stout plan is the sort of cooperative effort wherein the local representative lists county real estate and the agency advertises desirable places in newspapers and catalogs.

Business anniversaries of two major firms are being celebrated this week.

Breyers Ice Cream Co. is celebrating an 83th anniversary. In 1868, just after the close of the Civil War, a young Philadelphia named William A. Breyer produced the first quart of Breyer's ice cream in a small hand-operated freezer.

Today this concern is the largest producer of ice cream in the world—its business extending over eight states and the District of Columbia. From the small hand-freezer have grown three giant plants with a capacity of more than 20,000,000 gallons of ice cream a year.

The Bell Telephone Co., a great nation-wide system, is celebrating its 75th anniversary. The first complete sentence was carried over the telephone on March 10, 1876 due to perfection of a device—later to be called the telephone—by twenty-nine-year-old Alexander Graham Bell.

Today more than 35 million Bell telephones carry an average of 140 million two-way conversations a day, with calls being made not only from homes and offices, but from automobiles, railroad cars, locomotives, harbor craft, ships at sea and airplanes.

Telephones operated by independent companies increase the total in America to 43,000,000 and build the calling rate to about 170,000,000 conversations a day. This growth has been accomplished in a climate of freedom and responsibility.

Pennsylvania Power & Light Co. recently announced sale of its gas properties in and around Honesdale, Lehigh, Mauch Chunk, Shenandoah and Tamaqua. Its purchasers, a group headed by C. M. Swan, Swathmore, Pa., who has been associated with gas industries in Pennsylvania for more than 20 years, have contracted to purchase the properties subject to approval of Pennsylvania Public Utility commission, and will take over the properties as soon as possible. A representative of the purchasers indicated that the new group intends to supply top service to all users.

Federal Reserve Bank said yesterday movements of the various indicators of commercial and financial activity in the Third Federal Reserve district were mixed during February. However, a slight upward over-all trend was discernable.

The bank said a less active rate of consumer buying was apparent in February. In first 12 weeks of 1951, business loans at reporting member banks in the Third District which includes Monroe county rose 14 per cent, as compared to a gain of four per cent in the same period last year.

In spite of a slight decline in demand deposits, due to transfers to Treasury for tax purposes, privately owned money supply was still almost $5 billion larger than before the outbreak of fighting in Korea. This rise is more than for any comparable period in post-war years.

Dr. Veva Dean Speaker At Rotary Dinner

The important of the Welland Canal, connecting Lake Ontario with Lake Erie, to the St. Lawrence waterway system, was demonstrated with slides, maps and in a discussion by Dr. Veva K. Dean, head of the geography department at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Rotary club at the Penn Stroud hotel. Dr. Dean was introduced by Graydon Hoffman, program chairman.

The canal was first created by the Canadian government in the early 1800s. It was rebuilt a number of times, the last time in 1911.

The water-way-link provides the outlet for vessels from the entire Great Lakes chain to the St. Lawrence and the Gulf of St. Lawrence, a distance of over 3,000 miles.

The bat's wing is equipped with a hook in the form of a claw, enabling it to cling to walls, rocks, etc., from which it takes flight. Without the hook on its wings, it would be one of the most helpless of all animals.

A FEW FACTS ABOUT THE MONROE CO. CO-OP.

THE MONROE COUNTY CO-OP (Monroe County Milk Producers Cooperative Association) is not a privately owned industry, but, as the name implies, it represents the cooperative effort of our own Monroe County farmers, the folks whose farms you pass when you drive out to see our justly famous autumn foliage, and with whom you rub elbows on Main Street of a Saturday evening. No absentee ownership here and no out-of-county board of directors. Our own people own it and run it; their prosperity is the prosperity of the county and their milk dollars contribute substantially to the local economy.

THE DAIRY PLANT, starting with a small existing building, was constructed at one time to give service as a dairy plant, and for no other purpose. The design of qualified dairy engineers, ample capacity was provided and it is not one of those hit or miss growths, reshuffled and added to bit by bit—perhaps in a hurry—and as force of circumstances dictated. Into this new modern structure went new, modern equipment of approved design and the layout is such as to make for efficient operation and ease of sanitary maintenance. Operation is in the hands of local people, who have been accustomed to working together, and the routine moves smoothly.

THE MILK begins to roll into the plant each morning about sunup, and it comes short distances from the surrounding farms. There are no middle men, no long hauls in tank trucks and no long waits between milking and the time that the milk is pasteurized, otherwise processed and passed along to your doorstep. Sturdy mountain animals provide this milk and they subsist, largely, on the feeds that are the products of their own farms. Periodic physical examination by a veterinarian further assures their health, vigor and their right to contribute an essential food product to the community.

THE PRODUCER is also one of the owners of the industry with a stake in the welfare of the Co-op, and that is a strong incentive to quality production. However, the farmer is, by no means, left to his own devices for the State Department of Health has laid down very definite minimum requirements for equipping and operating a dairy farm and it is the duty of accredited inspectors to see that those requirements are met. Of even greater importance, the inspector must have the technical knowledge and experience to be of help when things go wrong, to consult with and bring to the farmer better ways of doing the job.

THE MANAGEMENT has long shown an enlightened interest in quality. That is evidenced by the plant and its equipment, where something "just as good" might have done the job "nearly" as well. No thought was ever given to the marketing of anything but pasteurized milk and it is fortified with additional Vitamin D. Long before the hood, protecting the pouring lip of the bottle from contamination, was required the Co-op had hooded bottles. It was an early purveyor of the disposable paper container. It has retained the services of an independent laboratory, accredited by both the Pennsylvania Milk Commission and State Department of Health to furnish it with a consultant and laboratory service.

THE TECHNICAL CONTROL AND SUPERVISION of dairy production has become an important factor, and modern science has placed in our hands many technical tools and methods, by means of which both the sanitary quality and nutritional value of milk products may be checked. It is the duty of the laboratory to furnish the scientific equipment and know how necessary to evaluate and to maintain quality. For your protection, the milk from each and every farm is sampled and studied at regular intervals, random samples of milk products are taken from the plant during operations, and checks are made for cleanliness of processing equipment and the final containers used for marketing. Finally, the cold storage room is invaded and random samples of packaged goods are selected for a final, painstaking laboratory study.

THE REASONS for insisting upon Monroe Co-op milk and milk products are quite evident. There can be no compromise with quality where the things we eat, the things we give our children to eat, are concerned. The owners of the Co-op have gone all the way to provide, not just good quality, but high quality. They are our own people and neighbors, staunch contributors to community welfare, and worthy of our support.

Gail DeSanto, Albert Ingetti Married; 400 At Reception

Pocono Summit—The marriage of Miss Gail Patricia DeSanto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. DeSanto, of Johnnie's Pocono Summit Inn, to Albert Ingetti Jr., son of Mrs. Olga Ingetti and the late Albert Ingetti, of the Bronx, New York, was held on Saturday in St. Mary of the Mount church, Mount Pocono.

A nuptial mass was administered by Rev. Monsig. McHugh, and they were married with the double ring ceremony. Miss Dorothy Lisette, Stroudsburg, was soloist and Miss Anna Homarski presided at the organ.

The altar was decorated with lilies and palms, while white ribbons and sprays of white carnations decorated the ends of the pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin with a Chantilly lace over-bodice and a Peter Pan collar and long pointed sleeves. Her bouffant skirt ended in a cathedral train. Her triple-tiered veil of illusion fell from a crown covered with beads and rhinestones, and sprays of ivory-orchid valley were inserted in the veil. She carried a large colonial bouquet of white roses and gardenias with a white orchid in the center, and with streamers holding white rosebuds.

Miss Romayne DeSanto, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. She wore an orchid gown with matching cape, and a picture hat with a shirred sweetheart brim. Her colonial bouquet was of yellow roses, daisies and baby's breath.

The bridesmaids were three cousins of the bride: Miss Shirley Newhart, of Pocono Summit; Miss Patricia McGraw, of Scranton; Miss Annette DeSanto, of Pocono Summit.

They all wore marquisette and taffeta gowns with matching picture hats in spring colors. Miss Newhart carried a colonial bouquet of red roses; Miss McGraw, wore a Nile green ensemble, and Miss DeSanto a blush pink ensemble.

June Ellen McGraw, also a cousin of the bride, was flower girl, and wore an orchid shaded gown of Irish point lace, with ruffled collar and apron, and carried a baby basket of yellow roses, daisies and baby's breath.

Walter Ingetti, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Dick Grady, Dick Frath, Joe Battisto, all of Mount Pocono.

A wedding breakfast for the bride and groom was held at the Bartonsville hotel, with Bill Irwin presenting organ music during the breakfast.

Later a reception for 400 guests was held at the home of the bride, Johnnie's Pocono Summit Inn, with a buffet supper.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. DeSanto wore a ballerina-length gown of aqua, with black accessories and a double orchid corsage. Mrs. Ingetti wore a ballerina-length gown in blue with blue accessories and an orchid corsage.

After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Ingetti left for their wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a light gray suit with navy blue accessories and a white orchid corsage. They will tour the New England states and Canada, and on their return will reside at Pocono Summit.

There were out-of-town guests at the wedding from New Jersey, New York, Scranton, Stroudsburg, California, Florida and North Carolina.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

There's quite an international flavor to the news, seems as though. The Y auxiliary ended up knowing a lot more about the South Pole and New Zealand and Nicaragua than they did before.

The WSCS's of Water Gap and Stroudsburg heard from Miss Parsons some very telling facts about China, from which she was evacuated last August.

But from New Zealand to China, I'll bet they never saw a wedding cake like Gail DeSanto's. Certainly is a tremendous affair, but with 400 guests for the reception, I'll bet they needed every bit.

Y Auxiliary Travelogue, U.N. Reports

Members of the Women's Auxiliary of the YMCA yesterday traveled south instead of north as they had expected. Mrs. Neal Josephson showed motion pictures taken by her husband when Dr. Josephson was a member of Admiral Byrd's "Operation High Jump" to the South Pole and New Zealand in 1946-47.

Mrs. Josephson was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. John Runney in place of Mrs. Eugene Martin who had been scheduled to talk on Sweden, but was unable to because of illness.

The four Tri-Hi-Y girls who had represented Nicaragua in the model UN Assembly in Harrisburg described how they had followed the pattern of the regular UN sessions, and of the banquet in which all the delegates had appeared in the costume of the country they represented.

Sally Eckie, Gertrude Resh, Jean Pearson and Dolores Delaria were the delegates and they reported on the matters discussed, including aid to undeveloped areas, control of atomic energy, the matter of opening the UN sessions with silent prayer; scholarships for the diplomatic profession, and values of a "Little UN" with college delegates.

At the business meeting, Mrs. John A. LeBar appointed Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Will C. Kraemer and Mrs. Earl Pipher to the nominating committee.

Plans were made for a supper meeting on May 8 with the board of directors and their wives. Tea was served at the close of the meeting.

Teacher From China Tells Of Evacuation

Miss Maude Parsons, a teacher of English in a Methodist High school in Chen-Yu, China, who was evacuated last August, was able to give the members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Stroudsburg Methodist church, a first hand account of conditions in China.

Although the school was located in a fertile and picturesque countryside, the pressure of Communism was causing untold hardships, she said, and told of her fears for the friends who had gathered at the airport to see her off despite warnings.

Christmas cards were returned undelivered, and the lot of the Christian Chinese is a very tragic one, she said, asking for the prayers of everyone in their behalf.

Miss Parsons, who will go to Japan in July, was introduced by Mrs. Ray Welsh, president. Miss Ruth Pipher was in charge of devotions and Mrs. Lorraine Toner was the soloist for the special music.

Announcement was made of a meeting May 4 when Mrs. Mabel Lora, a sister of Mrs. William Davis will speak on her work in Peru under the auspices of the Wesleyan service guild. The next WSCS meeting will have Mrs. Samuel Lee as program chairman and Mrs. Robert Wilson, refreshment chairman.

Hostesses included Mrs. Elmer Kiefer, chairman; Mrs. Florence LaBar, Miss Elizabeth G. Martin, Mrs. William Levering, Mrs. William Lutz, Mrs. William L'Hon-medieu, Miss Flossie Kresge.

Missionary Speaks At Luncheon

Delaware Water Gap — Miss Maude Parsons, a returned missionary from China, was the guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Women's Societies Christian Service of the Methodist churches of Delaware Water Gap and Portland, held at the Portland church on Wednesday afternoon.

A bountiful lunch was served, the tables being decorated with azaleas in honor of Miss Parsons.

In her talk Miss Parsons stated that after China was "liberated by the Communists," she had to give up her work so that she would not endanger the lives of her Chinese friends, since it is very dangerous to have a friend from "capitalistic" America. She showed many pictures of girls who had attended the Hwa Mei Girls high school in Chengtu, China. She told of one young woman, now studying in the United States, who belonged to a wealthy family which is now in extreme poverty, stating that she would not be able to return to her country but would have to take up her work in another country.

She spoke of the fine cooperation of the different Protestant denominations, showing pictures of a group of Methodist girls who had been baptized by a Presbyterian missionary in a Canadian chapel.

She stated that the average

Patricia Miller Takes First In VFW Aux. Essay Contest

The essay contest on "Freedom's Open Door," sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary on a national, state and local level, has ended and the local entries have been judged, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Jeanne Gutman, chairman of the local essay committee.

Miss Patricia Ann Miller, of East Stroudsburg High school, has been awarded first prize by the local judges, Mrs. Gutman announced. There are eight other prize winners from the essays submitted by the High school students of the county, but their names will not be announced until the presentation of prizes in June.

Theme of the essays was "Freedom's Open Door," and the local judges included Fabian Lauer, merchant; Mrs. G. Raymond Hood, regent of the DAR, and LeRoy Dailey, of the English department at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Winning local entries will also be judged at the state and national level.

TB Society Okays Union With Pike

A union of Monroe County Tuberculosis society and the Pike County Tuberculosis committee was endorsed yesterday afternoon by resolution adopted by board of directors of the local society. The joint operation was urged by the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health society.

Expansion of the anti-tuberculosis program to provide Pike county with the same sort of program which is currently being prosecuted in Monroe county was presented to both Pike and Monroe county TB groups in the past few months by Winston Bailey, field secretary of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health society.

The action taken yesterday by the Monroe county board, with Pike county's group prevented from attending by other engagements, stipulated that the jointure be adopted on a two-year trial basis.

Carl T. Secor, supervising principal of East Stroudsburg schools and president of the local society, conducted the special meeting yesterday. He named the following board members to revise the Monroe Constitution and generally outline the basis for a two-county group.

Attorney Charles R. Bensinger, H. G. Heller and Jonas T. May. This group will meet with at least two members of the Pike County TB Committee to set up a suitable constitution for a two-county unit.

Mr. Bailey noted that he had conferred with Dr. Chester B. Disinger, Pike county superintendent of schools and chairman of the Pike committee, as well as, other members, doctors and citizens of Pike county regarding the merger.

Under the system proposed yesterday the joint operation would be administered from the Stroudsburg office. A full time office secretary would be retained—Monroe now has a part-time secretary—and Mrs. Estelle Fleming, executive secretary would be freed to devote her expert personal attention to prosecuting the TB program in both counties.

Directors of the society started to set up their program leading up to free X-rays for all citizens of Monroe county from 18 years of age upward.

A public relations, transportation, house-to-house canvass and other committees were set up to carry out all the preliminaries leading up to the X-ray service.

Pennsylvania Department of Health and Monroe County Medical Society in cooperation with Monroe County TB Society will carry out the X-ray operation the week of May 14. Mobile X-ray units will cover every section of the county and every citizen will be urged to get a free X-ray.

Expenses of the whole procedure will be carried by the State Health Department with Monroe County TB Society paying for all the follow-up work, supplying the clerical workers and hostesses and doing the extensive follow-up work on all active cases.

The society voted to extend the X-ray service to cover all of Bushkill, much of which is located just over the Monroe County line in Pike county.

Mormon Church Leader Dies

Salt Lake City (AP)—George Albert Smith, slender grey-bearded president of the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) church, died Wednesday on his 81st birthday.

Death followed several weeks of serious illness which began when the church leader was stricken with a virus infection during the winter.

The spiritual leader of more than a million Mormons, President Smith had headed the church not quite six years. He became president May 21, 1945, a week after the death of his predecessor, Heber J. Grant.

One of Dr. Albert Einstein's first jobs was in the Swiss Patent office from 1902 to 1909.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. ## Holy Name Plans Two Activities Holy Name society of St. Matthew's R. C. church, East Stroudsburg, is planning a minstrel show which will be presented in late May or early June.

First practice for the show will be held tonight in the auditorium at St. Matthew's school, according to Chester A. Mertens, president of the society.

John Jennings is chairman of the minstrel committee, while Philip Dowling and Joe Webster are vice-chairmen. Terry Pickwick, George Forster and Joe Webster have been named as a committee of three to handle advertising and publicity.

Mr. Mertens also announced that plans have been completed for the fourth annual Holy Name Mother's day program.

As in the past, the men will attend the 9 a. m. mass at the church on Sunday, May 13, and place either red or white carnations at the altar of the Blessed Virgin in honor or in memory of their mothers.

Committee handling the arrangements for the service includes Tony Mazzetti, George Weiss,

Henry W. Fraas Honored At Rites

Funeral services for Henry W. Fraas, of Stroudsburg RD 3, who died at his home on Monday, were held in Universal chapel, New York, N. Y., Wednesday night. Interment took place yesterday in the Fresh Pond columbarium.

Earlier rites were conducted at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the funeral home of William H. Clark, Stroudsburg. Rev. Dr. Peter N. Wohlsen, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, was the officiating clergyman.

Members of Barger lodge 325, Free and Accepted Masons, conducted the services at the Clark funeral home at 9 p.m. Tuesday.

A wet thread strung on glass tubes comprised an early attempt to send electricity from one point to another.

Steeler Back Arrested On Murder Charge

Las Cruces, N. M., (AP) — A professional football player who went to college here was arrested for murder yesterday in the number one death mystery of a decade in New Mexico.

The football player is Jerry Nuzum of the Pittsburgh Steelers. The mystery is the death of Ouida "Cricket" Coogler, 18-year-old Las Cruces waitress and party girl.

A grand jury called to investigate officers' handling of the case delved into gambling and officers' conduct. It set off a series of New Mexico grand juries. The result in this state was similar to the U. S. Senate crime hearings.

Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, first Republican governor in 20 years, campaigned with one plank promising to clean up the Coogler case. Mechem is a former FBI man.

Announcement
New Mexico State Police announced the arrest in Pittsburgh of Nuzum, 25, former New Mexico A&M athletic star and now half-back for the Pittsburgh Steelers professional football team.

They disclosed the murder charge had been filed quietly March 31, anniversary of Ouida Coogler's disappearance in 1949.

Her partly buried body was found April 16 in the sand near a mesquite bush south of Las Cruces and Nuzum was taken in voluntary custody two weeks later.

Dist. Atty. Tom F. Campbell announced Nuzum's release May 10, saying Nuzum "has definitely been cleared of being at fault or having any guilty knowledge."

Nuzum was allowed to return to Littlefield, Tex., with the understanding that he'd return if needed.

State police, who have renewed the investigation since Governor Mechem took office January 1, declined to discuss what if any new evidence had been uncovered. However, Las Cruces officers recalled previous evidence of blood found on the underneath of Nuzum's auto, and reports that the girl may have been pushed or jumped from a car and been run over.

Ruffing Named To Replace Simmons

Houston, Tex., (AP) — The Cleveland Indians quickly filled out their coaching staff yesterday by naming Charley "Red" Ruffing, former great Yankee pitcher, to replace the ailing Al Simmons.

Now 45 but still at his 220-pound playing weight, Ruffing will join the team next week either at Pine Bluff, Ark., or Nashville, Tenn. He will be Cleveland's bull pen coach, with Mel Harder coaching first base and Jake Flowers at third.

Announcement
The announcement of Simmons' resignation Wednesday as third base coach was contradicted later by Simmons himself. He said he planned to rejoin the team after treatment for his nervous ailment.

But general manager "Hank" Greenberg said in Cleveland: "He is obviously not physically fit to coach this year. We can't go with out a coach, so we have replaced him."

Gola, DePaul Repeat As First Team Choices On Associated Press All-State Cage Squad

By Ben French

Harrisburg, (AP) — A tall Philadelphia and a comparatively short lad from Reading were the only repeaters on the All-Pennsylvania Scholastic basketball team released yesterday by the Associated Press.

But the top vote-getter was Farrell's hook-shot artist—Julius McCoy—who established an all-time WPAL scoring record of 477 points as he led his team to the western championship.

The Philadelphia is Tom Gola of LaSalle High school who has received 57 varieties of college scholarships to make him the most sought-after schoolboy court ace in recent years.

Reading Central Catholic's Mike DePaul, small in these days of lanky basketball aces, retained his post on the starting five by scoring more than 600 points in each of the past two seasons. He hit for 611 points in 29 games this season.

Rounding out first team, as selected by nearly 100 sports editors and radio sportscasters from all sections of the state, are Ed Fleming, Pittsburgh Westinghouse's record-smasher, and big Joe Holup, of Swoyersville, who scored a record 71 points in a single game this season.

The second team which was just behind the starting five in the balancing consists of such standouts as Allentown's Bill Snyder, Johnstown Catholic's Ron Nathan, Pottsville's Dick Ricketts, York's Howell Brown and Chambersburg's Mike Waters.

The sports editors and sportscasters voted on the basis of each player's performance for the entire season—not just the post-season playoffs. Both Allentown and Johnstown Catholic were well-balanced teams without single standouts.

Outstanding players on class "B" and "C" teams will be honored next week on the second annual Little All-Pennsylvania selections. The all-state team was limited to class "A" schools or squads that elected to compete in class "A" eliminations.

Western sports scribes were almost unanimous behind the amazing McCoy, a six-foot-two junior, who was at his best when the chips were down. His field goal in the last five seconds of the western title contest gave Farrell the western title. His WPAL record of 477 points—361 in ten league contests and eight playoffs—was set in spite of the fact he missed several games due to injuries.

Votes
McCoy's dazzling play gained him votes from as far east as Philadelphia—even before the playoffs.

The top point producer of the season was Joe Holup, the six-foot-five center from Swoyersville, who tallied 663 points in 25 games for a 26.5 average. His record high of 71 points was scored against Wilkes-Barre Township last February 22.

Holup, whose brother John made the first team last year, connected for 105 points in four playoff games. It's the first time a brother succeeded a brother on the all-state team. John is now a freshman at George Washington University.

Robinson Gains Verdict Over Mims

Miami, Fla., (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson pounded out a ten-round unanimous decision over tough and aggressive Holly Mims of Washington, D. C., last night in his first fight since winning the middle-weight championship.

The 23-year-old Mims, who had to drink several glasses of water at the weighing in ceremonies to come in over the 160-pound limit, opened an old cut over Robinson's left eye in the first round and surprised the champion several times by coming out of a crouch and scoring with lefts and rights to the jaw.

Ray scored his only knockdown in the second round with a right and left to the head but Mims was not seriously damaged. Mims was the aggressor all the way.

Protects Eye

Robinson, trying to protect the injured eye, kept Mims away with his left through the second and third rounds but the Washington boxer kept boring in, desperately trying to line up the elusive Robinson for damaging punches.

In the fourth Mims got through with three hard lefts to the jaw that shook Robinson but late in the round the champion backed him into the ropes with two vicious lefts and a right.

Robinson gave Mims a good beating in the sixth, although Mims rallied strongly near the end of the round and drove Ray along the ropes with several looping right hand punches to the face.

Robinson tried hard for a knock-out in the eighth, backing Mims into the ropes with a two-fisted attack, but Mims fought his way out of difficulty and was still on the attack when the round ended.

In the ninth, a long right hand blow that Robinson intended for the finisher failed to connect and the champion looked bad as he threw himself off balance.

Little League To Hold Banquet

Browns May Cause Trouble In Flag Race

Los Angeles, (AP) — Some critics discuss the St. Louis Browns with something less than the respect generally accorded a member of the American League.

But Al Lopez, manager of the talent-laden Cleveland Indians, grinned and approached the Brownie theme in this fashion:

"Zack Taylor has got a good little ball club. What else can you say about a team that has just kicked your brains out two games in a row?"

The Browns had just finished killing off Cleveland in two exhibition games via explosive home runs in the final innings. This made six straight the string of triumphs by these same Browns over the Cleveland—a string dating back to last fall when St. Louis crushed the Indians' pennant chances by taking four in a row.

That was before Lopez began his tenure at Cleveland. But Lopez and his associate pilots in the league may take warning: The 1951 Browns can prove themselves just as surprising and damaging as they were at unexpected moments a year ago.

Reminder

And vice-president, Charles W. Dewitt, is pleased to remind that his club has won a pennant since the White Sox, Athletics or Washington accomplished such a thing.

This isn't to say St. Louis has any pennant hopes or will finish much higher than its seventh place in 1950 but they might be most ornery.

Taylor's biggest problem is pitching. His leading pitcher is righthander Ned Garver, whose 13 wins might have been 20 with a first division club. Dick Starr, Cliff Fanning, Al Widmar and "Stubby" Overmire are regulars. Taylor has several promising rookie hurlers, notably southpaw Louise Slaughter, a 12-game winner from San Antonio, and two Baltimore transfers, Bill Kennedy, who won 16, and Irv Medinger, a 12-game winner.

Taylor apparently will have to get along without his minor league "rookie of the year," Frank Saucier, a .343 hitter from San Antonio, and Dick Kokos, a regular outfielder last year. Saucier says he's quitting baseball and Kokos is in the Army.

But rifle-arm Ken Wood, Don Lenhardt, Ray Coleman and Jim Delsing, or perhaps rookie Jim Dyck from San Antonio, give him a good hitting array of fielders.

The infield appears improved, with "Hawk" Arft at first; young Bob Young at second; slender Tommy Upton at short; and Owen Friend at third.

The catching is very good. Sherman Lollar, Les Moss and Clyde Klutts offer hitting and experience.

Indians Rally To Nip Giants

Houston, Tex., (AP) — The Cleveland Indians spotted the New York Giants five runs in the first inning, then came from behind yesterday to beat them 6 to 5, on shortstop Ray Boone's single with one out in the ninth before a crowd of 9,120.

Breaks Tie

With the score tied at five-all, Boone slammed his hit to left field to score Orestes Minoza from second base with the winning run.

Dale Mitchell, leading off for the Indians, homered in the first.

Dog Show Listed

Bethlehem — The Lehigh Valley Kennel Club is sponsoring an all-breed match show to be held here at the Pennsylvania National Guard Armory, under A.K.C. sanction, on Sunday.

There will be ribbons for class winners, rosettes and trophies for best in variety groups, with no less than fifty trophies to be awarded. Entries are taken from 10:30 a. m., with the match beginning with the parade of champions at 1:30 p. m.

Fazio Sets First Round Pace In Masters Golf Tournament

By Will Grimsley

Augusta, Ga., (AP) — Quiet, unspectacular George Fazio tamed awesome Augusta National with what he called "popcorn balls" yesterday to take a first round lead in the Masters Golf tournament with a four-under-par 68.

Schedule Drawn Up For Mountain Loop

Effort—Each team in the Pocono Mountain Baseball league will play 18 games this season, it was announced last night by John Wernett, circuit secretary, following a meeting of the schedule committee here at the Mt. Effort diner. However, the schedule will not become official until the league as a unit approves the setup a week from Monday, at the next loop meeting.

The present setup, which was adopted by the committee unanimously last night, calls for each club to play nine games at home and the same number on the road. Each team will play every other league squad on its home field.

State

Season activity is slated to begin on Sunday, May 13 and end on Sunday, August 26. However, actually the regular season campaign will continue until Labor Day, if time is needed to make up games postponed during the regular schedule.

The schedule includes two holidays, namely Memorial Day and the Fourth of July. Each team will be at home on one holiday and on the road the other.

Harry Wertheiser, chairman of the committee, will mail the proposed schedule to each league official and team manager prior to the next regular meeting. Wertheiser was in charge of last night's gathering.

In addition to Wertheiser and Wernett, Clarence Smith, Kunklestown pilot, was on hand last night to help draw up the 1951 circuit.

The league will also be called upon to officially adopt the by-laws for the coming season at the next meeting, in addition to the schedule.

Ladies Bowl Tonight

Twin Boro Ladies' League will roll at the Pocono Bowling Center tonight, at 7. Schedule follows: Alleys one and two — Thomas Funeral Home vs Monroe Distributors.

Alleys three and four — Bartonville Hotel vs Ridway's Esso. Alleys five and six — Sylvester's Jewelry vs Marsh's Foundry.

Bosox Blast Savannah

Savannah, Ga., (AP) — Boston's American League Red Sox found Savannah pitching to their liking yesterday, hammering it for five home runs in the course of thumping the local Sally Leaguers 15-0.

Clash For Gold Medal Title

Twin Boroughs and the Warriors clash for the Junior Gold Medal Basketball tournament crown at the Monroe County YMCA tonight, at 8. Both advanced into the final round by winning semi-final battles on Wednesday night.

The Warriors advanced into the championship bracket with a 47-40 victory over Ray's Chiefs, while Twin Boroughs presented a strong second half against Tobyhanna Township High school to win by a 57-50 count, in the same round of battles.

Schedule

Due to previous obligations, T.H.S. was unable to play its consolation game with Ray's Chiefs tonight, but will be in action on the YMCA on Monday, at 8, in the battle for third and fourth places.

Monday's preliminary battle will send the Pocono Jets against Pocono High school, at 7, on the YMCA court.

Sebring To Address Diamond Group

Walter Sebring, assistant superintendent of schools in Monroe county, will be the featured speaker at Monday's Little league banquet to be staged by the Exchange club, at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian church. The affair is scheduled to begin sharply at 6:30.

Any boy who played in the East Stroudsburg league last season is urged to attend Monday's gala affair, which may turn into an annual affair. If the first one proves successful.

Stroudsburg

In addition to the East Stroudsburg players, members of the Stroudsburg all-star team that met East Stroudsburg in a post-season series last year, will also be guests of the Exchange Club at Monday's banquet.

Gordon Coy, spokesman for the club, announced that more than 100 people are expected to attend the affair.

In addition to the introduction of several key figures in the operation of the Little League in East Stroudsburg and a few important remarks, those attending the banquet will be treated to the new 1951 Little League film.

Braves Defeat Oklahoma City

Oklahoma City, Okla., (AP) — Vern Bickford survived a rocky ninth inning yesterday and pitched the Boston Braves "flying" team to a 4-3 victory over the Oklahoma City Indians of the Texas League.

Bickford, first Tribal hurler to travel the distance this spring, ended the game with a third strike past Manager Tom Tatum.

Good Lead

He breezed into the ninth leading 4-1 and was slammed for four singles good for two runs before quelling the uprising.

Johnny Beasley, former Braves and St. Louis Cardinal hurler, protected a one run lead from the first inning until the sixth when he weakened and the Braves scored all their runs.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Auto racing has hit Monroe county by storm during the past two years, with a pair of tracks scheduled to operate within this county's boundaries this summer. Sunrise Speedway will enter its second season, while a new half-mile oval is scheduled to be completed and ready for action on Sunday, May 6, in the West End. The new track will feature a hard clay surface and according to reports will answer every specification necessary for a good racing course.

Racing in this neck of the woods was a sport that we read about several years ago, but now more and more dare-devils in the area are going in for stock car and small-car racing. Each Sunday more and more local drivers dotted the entry list at Blakeslee and it appears as if the same thing will be true this year, both at Blakeslee and the West End track. The number of baseball teams might have been reduced since last September, but the racing tracks have doubled during the same length of time.

Dick Osborn, former Greene-Dreher High school basketball star and now a student at the University of Scranton, has received permission to use his ailing knee in exercises. The well known cage figure had been ordered to take things very easy on the limb following surgery to repair damage done while Osborn was a student at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Authorities at Scranton are counting on Osborn to play an important role in their basketball setup during the next couple of years.

George Lalli, coach of a very successful Greene-Dreher High school basketball team during the campaign just completed, is now drilling a group of students in a dance routine for the coming May Day Festival. Reports indicate that this sort of thing is right down George's ally. Dominic Spacolin, business manager for the Bangor entry in the North Atlantic league last year, will team up with Leonard Renaldi in several appearances as unpires on the ESSTC baseball schedule.

Herman "Red" Lange, sold conditionally to St. Petersburg, Fla., of the class "B" Florida International league, by Bangor during the winter months, will report to that club after serving a hitch in the Army. Although the deal was on a conditional basis, St. Petersburg reportedly is willing to take the chance that Lange will report for duty with the Florida team, following his hitch in the Army. Basketball comes to an end for the season on Monday night, when the final game in the Junior Gold Medal tournament is listed for the Monroe County YMCA.

Stan Pawloski, third baseman for the Stroudsburg Poconos, North Atlantic League, in 1949, is currently in the thick of a red hot battle for the same position with Wilkes-Barre, of the class "A" Eastern League. The fact that Stan is a native of Newport, Pa., puts him in good standing for the job, as he will add to the club's attraction at the gate. Pawloski made a big hit with Stroudsburg fans during his stay with the Poconos, and was considered one of the best third sackers in the class "C" Canadian - American League last season, while holding down the third base job with Pittsfield, Mass.

Danny O'Connell finally entered the army, the other day, after the former Bloomingdale, N. J., third sacker, one time headliner in the North Atlantic League, had been waiting for the call for some time. Jim Lemon, another former Bloomingdale star and a member of the Cleveland Indians before entering the service, is now with the 340th MP's, at Fort Meade, Md. Carl Sawatski, the other former Bloomingdale performer to reach the majors, is also in the army. Sawatski did almost all of the catching for the Chicago Cubs late last season.

Nelson Smith, former member of the Pocono High school basketball team, is now stationed at Fort Devens, Mass., and recently went through his paces on the rifle range. Monday's Little League baseball banquet to be held for the youngsters by the Exchange Club, will take place at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian church. John Litts and Walter Sebring, county superintendent and assistant county superintendent of schools respectively, can really talk with authority on baseball and its progress in Monroe County during the last 20 or 30 years. Believe me, both of these men know baseball inside out.

Johnny Guidon, a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and shortstop with Peekskill and Bangor in the North Atlantic League has been teaching in Virginia during the winter months. However, the highly regarded infielder is expected to receive a leave of absence from his teaching job to further his baseball plans. Charley Peterson and Johnny Russo, pitcher and second baseman with Bangor last year, visited friends in the State Belt recently, before reporting at Hollywood, Fla., for spring training with Portsmouth, of the class "B" Piedmont League.

Eastburg Baseball Squad To Suffer First Cut Today

Sixteen Hopefuls To Be Dropped

Rain, wind and cold weather has hampered E. Stroudsburg High school from the opening day of baseball practice this year, at which time 42 hopeful candidates reported to Coach Jack Kist, to fight for at least seven positions left open by last June's graduation.

The large group has been limited to only four outdoor drills thus far, due to inclement weather. However, Kist is scheduled to make a cut in the squad today, reducing the number to about 26. The popular East Stroudsburg mentor expects to carry about 22 men during the regular campaign.

Only three lettermen are returning to this year's squad, featuring Leo Daley at third base and Ray Steele and Harold "Sonny" Eaton in the pitching department.

However, every other position on the club is wide open to the candidates now going through their paces at the East Stroudsburg playground, where the Cavaliers will play all their home games this season.

Infield

Gerald Rodgers, who was a member of the squad last year, and John "Juice" Armit, well known in local football and basketball circles, are battling it out for first base, while Jack Sommers, John Manson and Don France fight it out for the shortstop and second base posts. Daley occupies his regular third base spot at this early date.

Harold Litts and Leon Alberts are fighting it out for the number one catching assignment, while Lawrence Cramer is currently the number one outfielder in the picture, with his hitting and running showing up well.

John Polinski, a young right-hander from Portland, has impressed Kist as one of his best young hurlers. Steele and Eaton, the two holdover hurlers, are also right handed tossers.

Kist indicated that the Junior American Legion ball played last summer has helped his team develop the fundamentals of the game and the struggles for each position are much more torrid than a year ago. The squad isn't big physically, but its speed and hitting ability has impressed thus far.

The Cavaliers open the 1951 season on Tuesday, April 24, against Wilson Borough, on the latter's home field.

Fire Halts Cubs, Pirates

New Orleans (AP)—Fire destroyed part of the stands at Pelican Stadium here yesterday and the Chicago Cubs-Pittsburgh Pirates exhibition game was called at the end of the sixth inning.

Leading

The Cubs were leading 2-1 when the game was called. Part of the stairways in the stadium and a portion of the roof were destroyed by the fire. No one was reported injured.

Commercial 'C' Rolls

Commercial "C" League keglors will be in action tonight, on the Harmon allys, at 9:15. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Worthington Mower vs Kreamie Ice Cream. Alleys three and four—Regina Hotel vs Lanterman's Funeral Home.

Alleys five and six—Nauman's Sporting Goods vs Grover's Atlantic.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

University Of Chicago Great Named Top Quarterback On All-Time All-American Team

New Brunswick, N. J. (AP)—In the early 1900's when iron men ruled in college football, 145-pound, frail-looking Walter Eckersall of Chicago was a giant among quarterbacks.

He flashed so brilliantly across the gridiron firmament with his fantastic kicking, running and passing that it was almost inevitable that he should be named quarterback yesterday on the All-Time All-American team.

Eckersall, like other greats of the game picked in the nationwide poll by the Associated Press, will be first up for consideration by the honors court for selection to the Football Hall of Fame.

The National Hall of Fame, with the endorsement of the National Collegiate Athletic association, is planning a $5,000,000 shrine at Rutgers University here, birthplace of American football.

In conjunction with the Hall of Fame, the Associated Press conducted a poll of sports editors and broadcasters, to pick an unprecedented all-time team as well as second and third elevens.

Big Advantage

Players named to these teams will be given first consideration by the honors court, which will make the final selection for the shrine.

Other quarterbacks high in the voting were: Chris Cagle of the Football Hall of Fame, Army, Alvin "Bob" McMillin of Centre, Frankie Albert of Stanford, Frank Carideo of Notre Dame, Bennie Friedman of Michigan, Harry Stuhldreher of Notre Dame and Bobby Dodd of Tennessee.

W. W. "Pudge" Heffelfinger, Yale's all-time great guard, still feels he could play a good game of football for 10 or 15 minutes despite his 83 years.

Picked for the center position was another famed name of the past, 67-year-old Germany Schultz, a stalwart of the Michigan line from 1905 to 1908.

Filling in the other guard position in this lineup of greats, is a comparative newcomer, Robert Lee "Bob" Suffridge, star of Tennessee's magnificent forward walls from 1938 to 1940.

State Soccer Team Enjoys Trip To Iran

New York (AP)—"They showered us with more bouquets than you have at a wedding," said Penn State College soccer coach Bill Jeffrey yesterday on his arrival from Iran.

The State soccer team praised the players and the people of Iran. "The Americans said they found no evidence of anti-American feeling in Iran, and they received friendly greetings everywhere they went."

Penn State made the trip at the invitation of the Iran Athletic Association. They lost two of the three games played. "They were very good," said Ronald Coleman of St. Louis, who scored in the Shiraz game. "They were very good and had good team work."

Smiles and handshakes greeted them everywhere they went, Coleman and his teammates said. The American team was quartered at the Darband hotel, outside of Tehran. It was not inconvenient by the midnight curfew.

Not Affected

"We were not affected by it because we were in bed before that time," Coleman said. "I did not hear anything anti-American. All the people were hospitable and they made us welcome."

Coach Jeffrey said tough competition was encountered.

"It is the national sport of Iran," he said. "They get a kick out of the game and they have what we lack. They know how to visualize plays. We also lack offensive continuity."

"It was one of the grandest experiences that could ever happen to a soccer team," the coach said.

L. A. Bigott, of Caracas, Venezuela, a member of the Penn State team, said Iranian soccer players were on a par with soccer teams in South America.

Brooklyn Decisions Phils

Jacksonville, Fla., (AP)—Brooklyn and the Philadelphia Phils played extra innings for the third straight game yesterday before another overflow crowd of 7,973, an all-time record for this city.

Debut

Rookie "Rocky" Bridges, making his debut at third base, won the game for the Brooks, 5-4, with a single scoring Pee Wee Reese in the tenth inning. It was the seventh overtime game by the Dodgers in their last nine. Their triumph tied the series with the National league flag defenders at three each.

It looked like an easy win for the Brooks with two out in the ninth when Bill Nicholson's two-run homer off Jim Romano tied the score.

Rain Halts Contest

Shreveport, La., (AP)—Rain washed out yesterday's scheduled exhibition between the Chicago White Sox and the Boston Braves "train" team. Both clubs will travel by bus this morning to Monroe, La., 100 miles distant, for an afternoon encounter.

One proposition for membership was received and one demit was granted.

Bowlers will be busy the coming few weeks. Two teams will motor to Port Jervis, N. Y., Sunday. Two teams will compete at Ridgefield Park, N. J., April 15. A special bus has been engaged for the trip for the accommodation of members. April 22 two Port Jervis teams will compete on the local alleys. On April 29, two teams (Shamp's All-Stars) will bowl at Lehigh.

Dinner for Mr. Braybrook and his fellow members of Freeland lodge and the officers of 319 preceded the meeting. At the close

Club Renames L. F. Leffler To Presidency

L. F. Leffler, Line Material Co., was reelected president of the Foreman's and Industrial Club of Monroe County at the April meeting in the YMCA this week.

Other officers named were William Reaser, Worthington Mower Co., vice president; Frank Wertheimer, treasurer and W. F. Goddard, Line Material, secretary. Gilbert L. Smrz, plant manager of Line Material Company addressed the group on "The Social Responsibility of Business."

Dr. P. N. Wohlsen gave the opening invocation before the dinner meeting served by the Intermediate Tri-Hi-Y girls. George Schaefer and Carl Adelman won awards offered at the meeting.

Members conducted an auction for the benefit of the YMCA camp fund. Cliff Montplaisir served as auctioneer. Results netted $42.45 for the fund.

Sam Zaccaro announced that ladies' night would be held May 1 at Bartonville hotel. There will be flowers and prizes for the ladies.

Three Prisoners Are Transferred

Three youths, who on Monday pleaded guilty to burglarizing box-cars on the Lackawanna railroad near Mamie Hester curve at Pocomo Summit, were yesterday transferred from county jail to the State industrial school at Camp Hill.

Sheriff Amzi F. Altomose and Deputy Henry Johns escorted the three—Theodore R. Binkley, Chester Flower and Charles W. Gardner. All three were sentenced to indeterminate terms by the court.

Stroud Courier Award Goes To Father, Son

The staff of the Stroud Courier, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College newspaper, will hold its annual press banquet on Saturday, April 21, at the Penn Stroud hotel, marking the 27th year of publication. The paper has again received the coveted first place award given the Columbia Scholastic Press association for high standard of publication. This marks the 14th consecutive year the Courier has received the award.

Highlighting the banquet this year will be the presentation of the Stroud Courier award to Norman Thurston, editor of the Eureka Specialty, a trade publication, who has received national recognition for his editorial and organizational work in that field, and Scott Thurston, feature writer for the Scranton Tribune and Scrantonian, who is being honored for outstanding news coverage in the daily press. This is the first time since the inception of the award in 1937 that a father-son combination has received the award.

Members of the editorial board of the Courier are: Paul Heffner, editor-in-chief; James Collier, Marion Branick, managing editors; George Spillane, sports; Samuel Smith, photography; James Collier, exchange; Mary Ann Homza, Sidney Golden, circulation, and Florence Soroka, business manager. Final arrangements are now under way to make this one of the finest banquets ever held by the Courier. Committees for the affair are:

School Waits State Ruling On Calendar

Bangor — Donald B. Keat, superintendent of Bangor schools, told the board of education Wednesday night there would be delay in establishing the 1951-52 school calendar pending the State's ruling for either 180 or 190 teaching days for the school year.

He also announced that kindergarten will not be held during the 1951-52 school year, inasmuch as there will not be enough pupils to warrant solicitation for State aid.

The board granted contracts to Robert Cathcart, Russell Baggett, Mrs. Lois Nester, who have completed two years of satisfactory service.

The board granted Millard Gleim, of the faculty, permission to transport his history class to Gettysburg May 4. It also granted permission to John Williams, of the faculty, to transport the senior class to Walker-Gordon Dairy farm, Princeton, N. J., on either April 13 or 20.

Long Pond

Pvt. Roy A. Moyer and Pvt. Kenneth Smith, of Fort Dix, had their first leave of absence over the weekend and visited with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Moyer, and Mrs. Elsie Smith respectively, Herbert Gover, of Hatboro, drove them back to Fort Dix on Sunday night. Their address is Co. C, 47th Inf. Regt. Fort Dix, N. J.

The following visited at the home of Arlie Moyer on Sunday: Herbert Gover and family of Hatboro, Ralph Hoffman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bone, of Saylorsburg, Mrs. Stanley Johnson, and children of Kresgeville, Rose Mary Horn, of Leighton, Albert Eschenbach and Mildred Smith, of Pocono Lake and Pvt. Kenneth Smith and Pvt. Moyer, of Fort Dix.

The Tunkhannock Twp. school board held their regular meeting on Monday night, when important business was transacted. Thomas Coleman is the president.

Stanley Bender has returned from Del Ray Beach, Fla., where he was in charge of Starkey Farms Co. and is now ready to begin farm operations in this place.

The A. B. Moyer family is celebrating four birthday anniversaries in April. Mr. Moyer's birthday was April 2, Mrs. Moyer on April 24, Nelson Moyer on April 26 and Juniors Moyer on April 28.

Mike Soken, of Pocono, transacted business here on Tuesday. The dirt roads of the township have been in bad condition the past week due to frost coming out of the ground and also heavy rains. Several cars were mired down on the McMichael road and also on the Kuhlenbecker road. They had to be towed out with a tractor. The supervisors are making application to the Dept. of Highways to have two miles of these roads black topped.

Nelson Moyer, Elwood Belles, Jake and Randolph Meckes are employed in Bethlehem, where they have contracted to do masonry work.

Arch Keiper has returned from West Virginia, where he spent a month selling novelties and merchandise.

Willis Dyson will start building a new barn in the near future. John and Tom Coleman, brothers, while taking an airplane cruise over Deep Lake and Grass Lake section, spotted a lot of deer, some feeding in the fields cleared by the Game Com., others dozing on the hillsides in the spring sunshine.

Ten countries have more than a million telephones, in this order: The United States, the United Kingdom, Canada, Germany, France, Japan, Sweden, the USSR, Italy and Australia.

Floor Show To Feature Annual Dance

The annual dance of the Stroudsburg Fire Dept. in the ballroom of the Penn-Stroud hotel tonight will feature a floor show which will furnish the kind of entertainment that will make one forget the many disconcerting things faced today, the committee in charge said last night.

Mickey Klemm, Allentown, is furnishing the talent. Harry Sterling, versatile comedy emcee, will present the talent and keep his audience in good humor.

Gerrie Lamm, marimba-xylophonist, will entertain with a variety of numbers and Bonnie Burr, hep swing song stylist, will present several selections.

The Sterlings, a boy and girl team, of Pittsburgh, are a comedy dance team who will stage a dance on a typewriter.

The music for dancing will be furnished by the Johnny Altieri band.

Those who failed to receive tickets can get them at the door and those who have not made returns are requested to do so soon as possible. Tickets are $1 plus 20 cents tax. Dancing starts at 9 and will run to 7 a. m.

Agricultural Session Held

Monroe county was among 15 counties represented at a State regional agricultural mobilization meeting held in Wilkes-Barre this week.

More than 150 Production and Marketing Administration board members, county extension agents and soil district consultants attended the conference called by Clyde A. Zehner, Pennsylvania chairman of agricultural mobilization.

Zehner, who also is State PMA director, presided over the conference session which, he said, was called to give northeastern counties an explanation of the agricultural mobilization committee plan under the Department of Agriculture.

Speakers, in addition to Zehner, included Ivan McKee, of the Harrisburg office of the Soil Conservation Service; Carson Mertz, State official for the Farmers' Home Administration; H. R. McCulloch, assistant director of extension service at Pennsylvania State College; and Lt. Col. Frank J. Gaff, of State Selective Service headquarters.

Each discussed the organization of the nationwide network of mobilization committees and showed how each county group fits into the national farm mobilization pattern.

The Monroe county committee was represented by David H. Griffith, Kunkletown RD. 2 farmer, who heads the county PMA and is now serving as mobilization committee chairman; Robert Warner, of Pocono Lake, who is vice-chairman of the county PMA; and Allee P. Rebert, consultant for the Monroe county soil district.

Also present as guests of the committee were Donald deOtte, Cherry Valley, and William High. Effort, both of whom are directors of the Monroe county soil district, and Mrs. LaDora Boler, secretary of county PMA.

Reports on the Wilkes-Barre conference will be made when the Monroe committee meets next Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the PMA office at the county court house.

Adventists Open Drive

Seventh-day Adventists will launch their annual world mission appeal here today, Russell R. Adams, local church pastor announced yesterday.

Last year's drive, to which Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg residents contributed liberally, netted $2,882,000 for the support of medical, educational, and other activities carried on by Adventists around the world. The church seeks a similar amount from friends and neighbors this year.

"Members themselves gave $138,28 each to the work of the church last year," Mr. Adams explained. "but the need is so great that our own gifts are not enough."

Last year's contributions by members and their friends have been earmarked for new hospitals in Pakistan and the French Cameroons of Africa; training schools in Borneo, Toradjaland and Tahiti;

Floor Show To Feature Annual Dance

The annual dance of the Stroudsburg Fire Dept. in the ballroom of the Penn-Stroud hotel tonight will feature a floor show which will furnish the kind of entertainment that will make one forget the many disconcerting things faced today, the committee in charge said last night.

Mickey Klemm, Allentown, is furnishing the talent. Harry Sterling, versatile comedy emcee, will present the talent and keep his audience in good humor.

Gerrie Lamm, marimba-xylophonist, will entertain with a variety of numbers and Bonnie Burr, hep swing song stylist, will present several selections.

The Sterlings, a boy and girl team, of Pittsburgh, are a comedy dance team who will stage a dance on a typewriter.

The music for dancing will be furnished by the Johnny Altieri band.

Those who failed to receive tickets can get them at the door and those who have not made returns are requested to do so soon as possible. Tickets are $1 plus 20 cents tax. Dancing starts at 9 and will run to 2 a. m.

Agricultural Session Held

Monroe county was among 15 counties represented at a State regional agricultural mobilization meeting held in Wilkes-Barre this week.

More than 150 Production and Marketing Administration board members, county extension agents and soil district consultants attended the conference called by Clyde A. Zehner, Pennsylvania chairman of agricultural mobilization.

Zehner, who also is State PMA director, presided over the conference session which, he said, was called to give northeastern counties an explanation of the agricultural mobilization committee plan under the Department of Agriculture.

Speakers, in addition to Zehner, included Ivan McKeever, of the Harrisburg office of the Soil Conservation Service; Carson Mertz, State official for the Farmers Home Administration; H. R. McCulloch, assistant director of extension service at Pennsylvania State College; and Lt. Col. Frank J. Graft, of State Selective Service headquarters.

Each discussed the organization of the nationwide network of mobilization committees and showed how each county group fits into the national farm mobilization pattern.

The Monroe county committee was represented by David H. Griffith, Kunkletown RD 2 farmer, who heads the county PMA and is now serving as mobilization committee chairman; Robert Warner, of Pocono Lake, who is vice-chairman of the county PMA; and Alice F. Robert, consultant for the Monroe county soil district.

Also present as guests of the committee were Donald deOtte, Cherry Valley, and William High, Effort, both of whom are directors of the Monroe county soil district, and Mrs. LaDora Bolear, secretary of county PMA.

Reports on the Wilkes-Barre conference will be made when the Monroe committee meets next Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the PMA office at the county court house.

Adventists Open Drive

Seventh-day Adventists will launch their annual world mission appeal here today, Russell R. Adams, local church pastor announced yesterday.

Last year's drive, to which Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg residents contributed liberally, netted $2,882,000 for the support of medical, educational, and other activities carried on by Adventists around the world. The church seeks a similar amount from friends and neighbors this year.

"Members themselves gave $138,28 each to the work of the church last year," Mr. Adams explained. "but the need is so great that our own gifts are not enough."

Last year's contributions by members and their friends have been earmarked for new hospitals in Pakistan and the French Cameroons of Africa; training schools in Borneo, Toradjaland and Tahiti;

a printing plant in Pakistan and an evangelistic center in Manila, in addition to supporting projects already in progress.

The local church plans to reach its $1944 goal in a three week solicitation campaign. Robert Christman heads the committee in charge of the drive.

Once it required 44 hours to travel from New York to Washington by stage coach, a trip that today can be made in 90 minutes by airplane.

Decide On Divorce

New York City—Blonde songstress Peggy Lee and her composer-husband, Dave Barbour, have decided on a divorce, their press representative said yesterday. Miss Lee expects to file in Las Vegas, Nev., sometime in May. The couple have been married nine years and have a daughter, Nicki, 7.

Excitement Marks Arrival Of Ile De France At Entrance Of N. Y. Harbor

By Ruth Haller Ottaway
S. S. Ile de France—The 45,000-ton Ile de France is an elegant ship with interior decor of the modernistic style used in the Normandie. We had enjoyed its comfort from excellent service to the crepes suzette, disliked the pitching and rolling in March seas, and were thrilled to rise to sunshine and the prospect of an exciting official entrance into New York harbor.

In the late afternoon of the preceding day, Paul Auriol, assistant secretary to his father, gathered some thirty secretaries, reporters and photographers in the grand salon to give them instruction for the departure ceremony. Waving his arms, he showed exactly how it would be done.

Auriol Party on Boat Deck

The next morning the ship sounded a blast which our portfoles revealed was for two doughty tugs, the Romer and the Reliance (two good American names). Reporters began to leap aboard. Later, as a final seal to make the reception official, appeared Grover Whalen for Mayor Impellitteri of New York, and General Vaughn representing President Truman.

We climbed to the top deck to see the show. No descriptions written of the brilliant sunshine, blue skies, planes, helicopters, and the 21-gun salute could convey the thrill and pride we felt. There was the stunning New York skyscraper skyline on one side, and on the other the Statue of Liberty doing her utmost to welcome her own, the French who gave her to us as earnest of our enduring and common devotion to liberty. The fire-tugs gave dramatic accent, sending showers into the sky resplendent with rainbows which seemed to foretell the ultimate peace of the world.

Confusion and Champagne

To the joy of the French heart, excitement and confusion reigned. Champagne glasses were raised, the Marseillaise was played. Photographers waited for instructions which never came. So they crowded around President and Mme. Auriol, pressed them back to the iron railing amid pandemonium, snapped pictures. Finally the honor guests left the bridge, filed down the narrow stairway before us.

Mme. Auriol wore a becoming, unadorned, rather large beige hat, a coat of the same color. She valiantly smiled up at us as she passed, while the President waved his hand. Arriving in the grand salon with a mob of reporters, they sank exhausted into easy chairs, and were allowed to rest. Then they arose, and the reporters having been allotted no position, crowded close, and even then could hear nothing. The President said in a low voice. Any plan was conspicuously absent just as when the French Line put us on the 20 buses for Le Havre.

The French Language

"This 'tres gai' and casual quality is amazingly offset by the precision and clarity of the French language. It is the official language of diplomacy, of peace treaties, and of some of the greatest literature in the world. The sudden contrast on the pier not only of English, but the open, broad American English struck our ears with a new meaning, and seemed to proclaim the honest frankness, good-nature, and unsinkable gentleness of the American people.

France Not To Be Scorned

Our inclination to belittle France in late years brought to mind our actual debt in its contribution to the arts, science and

Mount Pocono

Mrs. L. T. Powers

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Pocono Mt. Fire Co. will meet on Tuesday night, April 10, at 8 in the fire hall. A film on "Cancer" will be shown by Mrs. E. O. Hendrick at this meeting to which all women of the community are invited to attend.

Miss Shirley Wagner, who attends the Whitney School of Art, New Haven, Conn., was called here by the death of her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Cruse.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Patterson, Pleasantville, N. J., have been spending a portion of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patterson.

Literature. We thought of Renoir, Rodin, Debussy, Curie, Pasteur, Balzac, Voltaire, Celineau and countless other great minds whose inspired intelligence flowed in an endless stream to the benefit of mankind.

It is significant of the recognition by France, of ideas, the most powerful force in the world, that President Auriol made Chevaliers of the Legion of Honor our prominent writers, music critics, art museum directors, scientists, and reporters.

Also significant is the fact that both President and Mme. Auriol in naming their hobbies led off with the arts. The President is fond of Beethoven, Mozart, Berlioz and Debussy. Mme. Auriol is an oil-painter of landscape.

Auriols Leave for Canada. The return of the Auriols from Washington to New York lined the street around the Pennsylvania station with thousands of people. His Waldorf dinner speech, as well as his address to Congress, was very moving.

He left for Canada with his words ringing in our ears, "Neutrality is a moral absurdity; isolationism is geographically and economically impossible, and bitter lessons have taught us that it is death."

Since the President of France and Mme. Auriol have been with us, our "Vive La France" has a warmer ring, and we join heartily in his slogan, "Peace with Freedom" and his toast, "Today as yesterday, France and the United States fraternally united for the peace and the liberty of the world."
